War Hindering Peace On College Campuses, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission aimed at pacifying the nation's campuses was told today it will not succeed until the Vietnam war is ended.

"It may well be," said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, "that the only line in the commission's report that will have any real meaning for our colleges and universities is the line that reads: 'This war must end.'"

Among Witnesses
The Massachusetts Democrat and Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott were among the six witnesses called at the opening hearing of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest.

The others: San Francisco State President S. I. Hayakawa, University of Michigan President Robben Fleming, National Student Association President Charles Palmer and Otis Cochrane, president of the Black American Law Student Union.

"Retreat" Suggested
Scott declared in prepared testimony, "We must retreat from demagoguery in all its oratorical fulmination. It is time to show each other our humanity, our human goodness."

"Student awareness does this generation credit, as does their idealism. Their anger at the system, the establishment, is evidence of this awareness," he said.

The commission, headed by former Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, was named a month ago by President Nixon in the wake of campus uprisings which followed the U.S. move into Cambodia.

Campus Deaths Recalled
Spurred especially by the shooting deaths of four students at Kent State University in Ohio and two youths at Jackson State College in Mississippi, Nixon asked the panel for full recommendations by Oct. 1.

Cochrane, a Yale law student from Atlanta, said "there should be no doubt in anyone's mind that the ultimate source for the growing tension in the United States rests squarely with President Nixon."

Kennedy said in his prepared statement the recommendations of the commission "can be issued none too soon," if further upheaval is to be headed off.

"Don't Back Away"
"I urge this commission not to back away from its own confrontation with the issue of the war," he said. "An analysis of campus unrest cannot look solely at the acts of students as disruptive and lawless."

"They are the ones who face the draft. It is their friends who are dying in the war. It is their lives and careers that are being disrupted."

Kennedy, however, deplored "the violence and various confrontations that have become the hallmark of too many campus demonstrations."

Rape Guard, Police
But he declared that "the most destructive campus violence has not been student violence. It has been official violence—the official violence of the National Guard at Kent State, the official violence of the Highway Patrol at Jackson State."

Such action would take the form of lawsuits filed before three-judge panels at the U.S. District Court level and proceed up through the Supreme Court, he said.

"We believe that certainly the 18-year-old voting requirement and possibly the literacy test and residency requirements will be determined only by a Supreme Court test," Mitchell said.

Atrocity Reports Never Reached Saigon:

State Department, U.S. Military Charged With My Lai Coverup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The alleged massacre of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai was deliberately covered up under an agreement by military and State Department officers in the field, a special House subcommittee has charged.

Reports of atrocities by U.S. soldiers promptly spread through 13 different command levels in the Americal Division, support units and U.S. adviser groups, the subcommittee said in a report released Tuesday. But there is no evidence they ever reached headquarters in Saigon, the report added.

Evidence Suppressed
"The subcommittee believes the explanation lies in a concerted action among military and State Department officers to suppress all evidence of the allegation and its investigation," the report said.

"The subcommittee," the report said, "was unable to determine when, and by whom, that decision was made, and consequently is unable to describe the scope of the agreement."

The report, based on still-secret testimony by 152 witnesses, was released by a special house appointed investigating subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

Other Findings
Other principal findings of the investigation into the Task Force Barker sweep against the suspected Viet Cong stronghold at My Lai March 16, 1968:

—Helicopter Pilot Hugh C. Thompson testified that when he landed to rescue Vietnamese civilians from a bunker, a lieutenant in charge of GIs standing over bodies in a ditch told him, "The only way I could get them out is with a hand grenade or something of that order." But Thompson denied having helicopter guns trained on GIs during the rescue.

—Acts by individual GIs were so wrong and uncharacteristic "as to immediately raise a question as to the legal sanity at the time of those men involved."

Wants Code Revised
—The Uniform Code of Military Justice should be revised to prohibit court-martial for such acts in combat until the accused man's mental responsibility at the time has been determined.

—The sole written record of a field investigation — concluding only 20 Vietnamese civilians were killed in artillery, helicopter gunship and ground cross-fire and that none were rounded up by GIs and killed—was found hidden in a sergeant's desk drawer. If other documents ever existed, they have disappeared from the files.

—An order by Capt. Ernest L. Medina, commander of the company that made the main My Lai sweep, to return to count civilian dead was countermanded by Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, then Americal Division commander, from a helicopter flying overhead. Koster said Medina's estimate of 28 dead South Vietnamese was right.

—U.S. intelligence dismissed allegations of up to 370 civilian deaths in My Lai and nearby areas as "Communist propaganda" even though most of the allegations were coming from South Vietnamese officials and detailed time, place and U.S. units involved.

No Conclusions Drawn
Hebert's subcommittee drew no conclusions on what actually happened at My Lai and made no reference to criminal charges against 12 GIs, including Medina and platoon leader Lt. William L. Calley Jr. The charges range from officer responsibility for the deaths to murder, rape and maiming.

The initial field inquiry was as much concerned with reports of a "machine gun confrontation" between helicopter pilot Thompson and an unnamed platoon leader, one officer testified, as with Thompson's report of civilian killings.

Denies Gun Order
Thompson denied ordering guns trained on the GIs or believing he was threatened by them, the report said, even though he said the platoon leader had told him the only way to get civilians out of a bunker to rescue them was with a hand grenade.

The report quoted one of Thompson's gunners, Lawrence Colburn, as saying the pilot told the gunners to shoot any GIs in the court.

The court was expected to hear Weitzer's arguments in support of the petition. There was no indication whether the Army would present rebuttal arguments, or whether a number of Army witnesses subpoenaed by Weitzer would appear.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Albert J. Henderson, one of the jurists on the panel, issued a temporary injunction against the Army in Torres' case two weeks ago. Since then, similar petitions have been filed in other courts for two others also accused in the alleged My Lai massacre.

One of those petitions, for S. Sgt. David Mitchell, 30, of St. Francisville, La., was taken under advisement Tuesday by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts of Austin, Tex.

The other, in behalf of Spec. 4 Robert W. T'Souvas, 21, of San Jose, Calif., has not been set for hearing.

Henderson, in granting the temporary injunction for Torres, said the case "strikes at the very heart of military justice."

Government attorneys said it could prompt every person being court-martialed in Southeast Asia to seek civil stays.

Governor's Home Cost State $6,394 In Property Taxes
LANSING (AP)—The new governor's mansion in Lansing reportedly cost the state $6,394 in property taxes for last year.

The mansion, valued at $440,000, was given the state by Howard Sober, a Lansing trucking executive.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon S. Cohan said that a special 1968 law has provided that the state pay for taxes on acquisitions.

Excess funds in the Department of Administration Appropriation were used to pay the local taxes, the Detroit Free Press reported.

This included $53.46 in penalty and interest on the original bill. In January, Sober was described by federal officials as being a compulsive gambler who was taken advantage of during a nationwide betting scheme. Sober was not charged in the case.

Fingerprints Checked
Meanwhile, police examined a set of fingerprints taken from a stolen car in Chicago for new leads to 16-year-old Laurie Murningham. Husby said he doubted whether the man involved would prove to be connected with the case. The prints were taken from a car in which Chicago police arrested a man said to have been in the company of a white woman or girl earlier.

The car carried license plates registered to a Battle Creek woman, but appeared to have been stripped, police said. They said the driver had a record of jumping bond.

Donations Four In
A $1,000 donation was added to the $5,000 reward fund for information leading to the young woman's safe return. The gift came from the Community Action Program Council of the United Auto Workers Union.

Another $1,000 has been donated anonymously to help pay legal fees for the kidnaper if he can be induced to come forward.

Two men whose false reports Sunday concerning the case resulted in a five-hour police roadblock.

Husby urged residents of an area southwest of Lansing to go into the homes of vacationing friends and relatives "if you have the authority" to check basements, garages and the like.

"We are looking for anything that is not usual to existing conditions," he said.

Civilian Assistance Asked To Help Find Lansing Girl

LANSING (AP)—The reward fund for kidnapped Laurie Murningham swelled to $16,500 today and her father appeared again on local television to appeal for her safe return.

Former Mayor Max Murningham, father of the 16-year-old blonde high school junior who was kidnapped at gunpoint last Thursday, said the entire fund would be made available for legal expenses or family needs if the kidnaper would return her alive and unharmed.

Miss Murningham was forced to accompany the gunman after he robbed Gallagher's gifts and Antiques Shop of $64 and beat the proprietor, Christine Gallagher, with his pistol.

Murningham was joined in the appeal by Rabbi Philip Frankel of Congregation Shaarey Zedek and by the Rev. Jerome MacEackin, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church of East Lansing.

"Bring Laurie to one of us alive," said Frankel, "and we won't question you, interrogate you or say anything to anyone about you."

Earlier, police asked residents in Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties to search their properties for clues to the girl's whereabouts.

"Look anywhere that someone might be held against their own will," he advised.

Two Plead Guilty
On Tuesday, two men pleaded guilty and were sentenced in Owosso for a $600,000 report terfering with the rescue attempt but didn't mean it.

The committee said the "cover up" of the My Lai allegations cannot be solely blamed on Koster's Americal Division. The staff of the senior U.S. province adviser, James May, and senior advisers to the South Vietnamese division also were receiving reports that should have gone to Saigon, the subcommittee said.

Troops Not At Fault
May told the subcommittee he never heard the allegations, while Koster testified he did not report to headquarters in Saigon because he believed the field investigation showed "his troops were not at fault."

That was the finding of a five-page report, found in a sergeant's desk drawer, by Col. Oran K. Henderson, 11th Brigade commander, the subcommittee said.

It said "there is not a shred of evidence" other than the statements of Koster and Henderson, that Lt. Col. Frank Barker, the task force commander who was later killed, conducted a subsequent investigation into allegations that more than 20 Vietnamese civilians had been killed.

Denies Gun Order
Thompson denied ordering guns trained on the GIs or believing he was threatened by them, the report said, even though he said the platoon leader had told him the only way to get civilians out of a bunker to rescue them was with a hand grenade.

Russ Hike Building Pace Of Missile Subs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has stepped up construction of missile firing submarines and now is building them at the rate of eight to 10 a year, defense officials say.

If the Soviet construction rate continues at the upper range, Russia's missile firing submarine fleet could achieve parity with the 41-boat U.S. Polaris sub force by mid-1973.

That would be a year earlier than Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's forecast only three months ago when he calculated Russian submarine construction as running at about six to eight boats a year.

Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering, told a briefing of young political leaders at the State Department Tuesday the Russians had accelerated the rate of missile-firing submarine building, but he gave no figures.

Pentagon officials later provided the new estimate of eight to 10 boats a year.

At present, the Russians are understood to have about 12 missile-launching submarines in operation, some within striking range of the United States. American strategists believe Soviet submarine-launched weapons would be targeted on American bomber bases.

This is why the Safeguard antimissile system is intended, in part, to counter a sub-launched blow at the nation's nuclear bomber force.

According to current calculations, the first U.S. Safeguard antimissile sites will not be operational at least until 1975.

The new information on the increased Soviet sub-building rate was disclosed after fresh intelligence analyses in recent days prompted defense officials to conclude the Russians have maintained the momentum of their land-based intercontinental ballistic missile buildup since last year.

Controversial Driver License Bill Vetoes
LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has vetoed a commercial bill allowing commercial drivers to hold both chauffeurs' and private operators' driving licenses simultaneously.

The bill, introduced by Sens. Charles Zoller, R-Benton Harbor, and George S. Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe Park, would have allowed truckers, cab drivers and delivery men to accumulate 24 penalty points towards suspension of driving privileges rather than the present 12.

Under the bill, violations would be assessed against whichever license a driver was using at the time of his arrest. Opponents of the bill said it discriminated against the private citizens who had to use only one license for both business and personal driving.

Milliken said today he vetoed the bill because he believed "drivers who might accumulate maximum points on two licenses could constitute an unacceptable motoring hazard."

Enactment of the proposal also could jeopardize state receipt of federal funds under the 1966 National Highway Safety Act, Milliken said. He said that might amount to $20 million a year.

Principal support for the bill during its legislative passage was widely attributed to the Michigan Teamsters Union.

Rep. Quincy Hoffman, R-Applegate, a former sheriff, called it "the most atrocious bill since I have been a member of the Legislature. I have never seen such unscrupulous lobbying tactics."

"No Teamster driver or professional driver of any organization ever asked me to support privilege created for him," Milliken said. He "had heard allegations about the lobbying that went on about the bill."

Nationwide Bombings Start Of Guerrilla War?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, opening hearings into the 5,000 bombings reported across the nation in the past 18 months, says the violence may mark the beginning of domestic guerrilla action.

High Explosives Used
Since Jan. 1, 1960, McClellan's investigators said, there have been more than 1,000 bombings involving the use of high explosives and more than 4,000 involving incendiary devices, an average of more than nine bomb incidents a day.

The result, they said, has been up to 40 deaths, about 300 injuries and more than $23 million in property damage.

Committee sources said the recent bombings appear to be the work of white and black extremists, anti-Semites and labor racketeers.

They said their statistics also indicate the resort to the bomb is a political-social terror tool has been largely a premeditated act apparently perpetrated by so-called revolutionary youths.

McClellan said testimony during the hearings will reveal "a measure of guerrilla warfare is being conducted by terrorists across the entire nation."

In the past 18 months, explosions have ripped office buildings in New York City, ROTC buildings on university campuses, the offices of foreign nations in New York and Washington, synagogues and churches, and school buses.

War Hindering Peace On College Campuses, Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission aimed at pacifying the nation's campuses was told today it will not succeed until the Vietnam war is ended.

"It may well be," said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, "that the only line in the commission's report that will have any real meaning for our colleges and universities is the line that reads: 'This war must end.'"

The Massachusetts Democrat and Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott were among the six witnesses called at the opening hearing of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest.

The others: San Francisco State President S. I. Hayakawa, University of Michigan President Robben Fleming, National Student Association President Charles Palmer and Otis Cochran, president of the Black American Law Student Union.

"Retreat" Suggested

Scott declared in prepared testimony, "We must retreat from demagoguery in all its oratorical fulminations. It is time to show each other our humanity, our human goodness."

"Student awareness does this generation credit, as does their idealism. Their anger at the system, the establishment, is evidence of this awareness," he said.

The commission, headed by former Republican Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, was named a month ago by President Nixon in the wake of campus uprisings which followed the U.S. move into Cambodia.

Campus Deaths Recalled
Spurred especially by the shooting deaths of four students at Kent State University in Ohio and two youths at Jackson State College in Mississippi, Nixon asked the panel for full recommendations by Oct. 1.

Cochran, a Yale law student from Atlanta, said "there should be no doubt in anyone's mind that the ultimate source for the growing tension in the United States rests squarely with President Nixon."

Kennedy said in his prepared statement the recommendations of the commission "can be issued none too soon," if further upheaval is to be headed off.

"They are the ones who face the draft. It is their friends who are dying in the war. It is their lives and careers that are being disrupted."

Kennedy, however, deplored "the violence and various confrontations that have become the hallmark of too many campus demonstrations."

Raps Guard, Police

But he declared that "the most destructive campus violence has not been student violence. It has been official violence—the official violence of the National Guard at Kent State, the official violence of the Highway Patrol at Jackson State."

Atrocity Reports Never Reached Saigon:

State Department, U.S. Military Charged With My Lai Coverup

WASHINGTON (AP) — The alleged massacre of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai was deliberately covered up under an agreement by military and State Department officials in the field, a special House subcommittee has charged.

Reports of atrocities by U.S. soldiers promptly spread through 13 different command levels in the Americal Division, support units and U.S. adviser groups, the subcommittee said in a report released Tuesday. But there is no evidence they ever reached headquarters in Saigon, the report added.

Evidence Suppressed
"The subcommittee believes the explanation lies in a concerted action among military and State Department officers to suppress all evidence of the allegation and its investigation," the report said.

"...The subcommittee," the report said, "was unable to determine when, and by whom, that decision was made, and consequently is unable to describe the scope of the agreement."

The report, based on still-secret testimony by 152 witnesses, was released by a special house appointed investigating subcommittee headed by Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La.

Other Findings
Other principal findings of the investigation into the Task Force Barker sweep against the suspected Viet Cong stronghold at My Lai March 16, 1968:

—Helicopter Pilot Hugh C. Thompson testified that when he landed to rescue Vietnamese civilians from a bunker, a lieutenant in charge of GIs standing over bodies in a ditch told him, "The only way I could get them out is with a hand grenade" or something of that order. But Thompson denied having helicopter guns trained on GIs during the rescue.

—Acts by individual GIs were so wrong and uncharacteristic "as to immediately raise a question as to the legal sanity at the time of those men involved."

Wants Code Revised
—The Uniform Code of Military Justice should be revised to prohibit court-martial for such acts in combat until the accused man's mental responsibility at the time has been determined.

—The sole written record of a field investigation — concluding only 20 Vietnamese civilians were killed in artillery, helicopter

gunship and ground cross-fire and that none were rounded up by GIs and killed—was found hidden in a sergeant's desk drawer. If other documents ever existed, they have disappeared from the files.

—An order by Capt. Ernest L. Medina, commander of the company that made the main My Lai sweep, to return to count civilian dead was countermanded by Maj. Gen. Samuel W. Koster, then Americal Division commander, from a helicopter flying overhead. Koster said Medina's estimate of 28 dead South Vietnamese was right.

—U.S. intelligence dismissed allegations of up to 570 civilian deaths in My Lai and nearby areas as "Communist propaganda" even though most of the allegations were coming from South Vietnamese officials and detailed time, place and U.S. units involved.

No Conclusions Drawn
Hebert's subcommittee drew no conclusions on what actually happened at My Lai and made no reference to criminal charges against 12 GIs, including Medina and platoon leader Lt. William L. Calley Jr. The charges range from officer responsibility for the deaths to murder, rape and maiming.

The initial field inquiry was as much concerned with reports of a "machine gun confrontation" between helicopter pilot Thompson and an unnamed platoon leader, one officer testified, as with Thompson's report of civilian killings.

Denies Gun Order
Thompson denied ordering guns trained on the GIs or believing he was threatened by them, the report said, even though he said the platoon leader had told him the only way to get civilians out of a bunker to rescue them was with a hand grenade.

The report quoted one of Thompson's gunners, Lawrence Colburn, as saying the pilot told the gunners to shoot any GIs interfering with the rescue attempt but didn't mean it.

The committee said the "cover up" of the My Lai allegations cannot be solely blamed on Koster's Americal Division. The staff of the senior U.S. province adviser, James May, and senior advisers to the South Vietnamese division also were receiving reports that should have gone to Saigon, the subcommittee said.

Troops Not At Fault
May told the subcommittee he never heard the allegations, while Koster testified he did not report to headquarters in Saigon because he believed the field investigation showed "his troops were not at fault."

That was the finding of a five-page report, found in a sergeant's desk drawer, by Col. Oran K. Henderson, 11th Brigade commander, the subcommittee said.

It said "there is not a shred of evidence" other than the statements of Koster and Henderson, that Lt. Col. Frank Barker, the task force commander who was later killed, conducted a subsequent investigation into allegations that more than 20 Vietnamese civilians had been killed.

U.S. Military Justice System Under Attack
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The constitutionality of the entire U.S. system of military justice comes under a broad attack today in the case of a soldier charged with murder in the alleged massacre at My Lai.

At issue before a three-judge federal panel is whether the Army has a legal right to try Sgt. Esequiel Torres, 22, of Brownsville, Tex.

The hearing was on a petition filed June 24 by attorney Charles L. Weltner of Atlanta, the first civil intervention into the Army's jurisdiction over the My Lai case.

It contends an Army trial by court-martial would violate Torres' constitutional rights on 15 grounds and asks either that the Army be permanently enjoined from trying Torres or that the case be transferred to federal court.

The court was expected to hear Weltner's arguments in support of the petition. There was no indication whether the Army would present rebuttal arguments, or whether a number of Army witnesses subpoenaed by Weltner would appear.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge Albert J. Henderson, one of the jurists on the panel, issued a temporary injunction against the Army in Torres' case two weeks ago. Since then, similar petitions have been filed in other courts for two others also accused in the alleged My Lai massacre.

One of those petitions, for S. Sgt. David Mitchell, 30, of St. Francisville, La., was taken under advisement Tuesday by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Jack Roberts of Austin, Tex.

The other, in behalf of Spec. 4 Robert W. T'Souvas, 21, of San Jose, Calif., has not been set for hearing.

Henderson, in granting the temporary injunction for Torres, said the case "strikes at the very heart of military justice."

Government attorneys said it could prompt every person being court-martialed in Southeast Asia to seek civil suits.

Civilian Assistance Asked To Help Find Lansing Girl

LANSING (AP)—The reward fund for kidnapped Laurie Murningham swelled to $16,500 today and her father appeared again on local television to appeal for her safe return.

Former Mayor Max Murningham, father of the 16-year-old blonde high school junior who was kidnapped at gunpoint last Thursday, said the entire fund would be made available for legal expenses or family needs if the kidnaper would return her alive and unharmed.

Miss Murningham was forced to accompany the gunman after he robbed Gallagher's gifts and Antiques Shop of $64 and beat the proprietor, Christine Gallagher, with his pistol.

Murningham was joined in the appeal by Rabbi Philip Frankel of Congregation Shaarey Zedek and by the Rev. Jerome MacEackin, pastor of St. Thomas Aquinas Catholic Church of East Lansing.

"Bring Laurie to one of us alive," said Frankel, "and we won't question you, interrogate you or say anything to anyone about you."

Earlier, police asked residents in Ingham, Clinton and Eaton counties to search their properties for clues to the girl's whereabouts.

"Look anywhere that someone might be held against their own will," he advised.

Two Plead Guilty
On Tuesday, two men pleaded guilty and were sentenced in Owosso for a fictitious report that led to a five-hour police roadblock.

Husby urged residents of an area southwest of Lansing to go into the homes of vacationing friends and relatives "if you have the authority," to check basements, garages and the like.

"We are looking for anything that is not usual to existing conditions," he said.

Fingerprints Checked
Meanwhile, police examined a set of fingerprints taken from a stolen car in Chicago for new leads to 16-year-old Laurie Murningham. Husby said he doubted whether the man involved would prove to be connected with the case. The prints were taken from a car in which Chicago police arrested a man said to have been in the company of a white woman or girl earlier.

The car carried license plates registered to a Battle Creek woman, but appeared to have been stripped, police said. They said the driver had a record of jumping bond.

Donations Pour In
A $1,000 donation was added to the $5,000 reward fund for information leading to the young woman's safe return. The gift came from the Community Action Program Council of the United Auto Workers Union.

Another $1,000 has been donated anonymously to help pay legal fees for the kidnaper if he can be induced to come forward.

Russ Hike Building Pace Of Missile Subs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union has stepped up construction of missile firing submarines and now is building them at the rate of eight to 10 a year, defense officials say.

If the Soviet construction rate continues at the upper range, Russia's missile firing submarine fleet could achieve parity with the 41-boat U.S. Polaris sub force by mid-1973.

That would be a year earlier than Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's forecast only three months ago when he calculated Russian submarine construction as running at about six to eight boats a year.

Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering, told a briefing of young political leaders at the State Department Tuesday the Russians had accelerated the rate of missile-firing submarine building, but he gave no figures.

Pentagon officials later provided the new estimate of eight to 10 boats a year.

At present, the Russians are understood to have about 12 missile-launching submarines in operation, some within striking range of the United States.

American strategists believe Soviet submarine-launched weapons would be targeted on American bomber bases.

This is why the Safeguard antimissile system is intended, in part, to counter a sub-launched blow at the nation's nuclear bomber force.

According to current calculations, the first U.S. Safeguard antimissile sites will not be operational at least until 1975.

The new information on the increased Soviet sub-building rate was disclosed after fresh intelligence analyses in recent days prompted defense officials to conclude the Russians have maintained the momentum of their land-based intercontinental ballistic missile buildup since last year.

Controversial Driver License Bill Vetoed
LANSING (AP) — Gov. William Milliken has vetoed a controversial bill allowing commercial vehicle drivers to hold both chauffeurs' and private operators' driving licenses simultaneously.

The bill, introduced by Sens. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, and George S. Fitzgerald, D-Grosse Pointe Park, would have allowed truckers, cab drivers and delivery men to accumulate 24 penalty points towards suspension of driving privileges rather than the present 12.

Under the bill, violations would be assessed against whichever license a driver was using at the time of his arrest. Opponents of the bill said it discriminated against the private citizens who had to use only one license for both business and personal driving.

Milliken said today he vetoed the bill because he believed "drivers who might accumulate maximum points on two licenses could constitute an unacceptable motoring hazard."

Enactment of the proposal also could jeopardize state receipt of federal funds under the 1966 National Highway Safety Act, Milliken said. He said that might amount to $20 million a year.

Principal support for the bill during its legislative passage was widely attributed to the Michigan Teamsters Union.

Rep. Quincy Hoffman, R-Apoplex, a former sheriff, called it "the most atrocious bill since I have been a member of the Legislature. I have never seen such unscrupulous lobbying tactics."

"No Teamster driver or professional driver of any organization ever asked me to support privilege created for him."

Milliken said he "had heard allegations about the lobbying that went on about the bill."

Area Board Approves Hot Lunch Resumption

The Escanaba Board of Education Tuesday night took initial action to reinstate a hot lunch program for the coming year. The program has been approved in principle for all schools which have previously conducted such programs.

Roger Lynas of Lansing, field representative for the Hot Lunch Section of the Department of Education, presented details of the state program which includes reimbursement for certain students and standards of nutritional quality.

The board directed Supt. Luther M. Barrett to formulate and submit a complete plan of action, including recommended prices, by July 22 for board approval.

The board also approved contracts for the 1970-71 school year for Jean Arkins as high school business education teacher, Lynn Olsen and Jane Malinowski as second grade teachers at Lemmer, Sue Renken for kindergarten at Ford River, and Grace Huston for combination 3rd - 4th grade room at Old Jefferson.

Program Moved
Transfer of the program for the deaf and hard of hearing from the John Lemmer building to the Junior High with Paul Vardigan continuing to handle the program and an additional second grade teacher be employed for the Lemmer building to occupy the vacated room, also was approved.

Business manager Steven Baltic recommended that collection of unpaid textbook and supply fees be turned over to the Small Claims Court rather than a collection agency. Baltic also suggested to the board that each of the over 100 delinquent fee accounts be notified by letter of the impending court action. The board approved the action and established a 14-day period for payment before court action would be taken.

Guards Funded
Barrett reported on the success of the placement of crossing guards at the corners of Webster School and the Fairgrounds, Stephenson and 2nd Ave. N., and Lincoln Rd. and 8th Ave. S. The program is funded on an equal basis by the Board of Education and the City of Escanaba.

Barrett recommended with the endorsement of City Manager George Harvey that the hourly wage for the guards be increased from $1.50 to $2. The board approved the increase in wages and the total cost for the program of approximately $2,160 or $1,080 each for the City and the schools.

Barrett also proposed a reorganization of the Pine Ridge and Ford River schools which would attempt to offset the three combination rooms at the Pine Ridge building by using Pine Ridge for second, third and fifth grade and employing full use of Ford River by making a third-fourth combination. Due to the difficulty of reorganization and the need to inform the people of Ford River, the board instructed Barrett to act in the best interests of both schools.

Rerouting Proposed
Baltic reported on a potential dental health plan which is coordinated through Dental Service Inc., a non-profit organization. The program would provide coverage for dental costs as a result of an accident. The one-year program from Sept. 1 to August 31 would include 24-hour coverage for all activities, including athletics, and would cost $2.25 per student. The board referred the matter to committee.

Other matters sent to committee examination included the special education evaluation conducted by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate District and a proposal to reroute 5th Ave. S. through land presently part of the High School campus. The rerouting is intended to realign the 5th Ave. S. and Lincoln Rd. intersection to eliminate the present offset situation.

Barrett reported that American Cablevision has offered to televise various sporting events of the 1970-71 season on cable channel 4. The games would be of the delayed broadcast type. The board instructed Barrett to discuss the matter with the athletic department and to return to the board with their proposals.

American Cablevision also has offered to televise board meetings and to provide weekly or monthly half hour program time for the use of the board. The matter also was referred to committee.

Wayne Carlson In Naval Reserve

Among men enlisting in the Naval Reserve at Green Bay during June is Seaman Recruit Wayne M. Carlson, 18, of Bayview Location, Gladstone. Carlson is a 1969 graduate of Escanaba Area High School and is employed by the Delta County Road Commission.

GM, AMC Report Increase In Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Domestic auto sales in the nation declined slightly in the first ten days of July. However, both General Motors Corp. and American Motors Corp. reported increases for the period.

As a whole, auto sales were off less than one per cent over last year. The top automakers reported sales of 181,491 for the period, compared to 183,123 last year. There were eight selling days in both periods.

General Motors reported a 6.5 per cent increase with sales of 97,901 new passenger cars this year, compared to 91,958 last year in early July.

Mack W. Worden, vice president in charge of GM's marketing staff, said the upsurge of sales "reflects differences in the closing days of car sales incentive programs this year and last."

Wells In City Must Conform To Standards

Officials of the Delta-Memnon District Health Dept. today advised persons in the cities of Escanaba and Gladstone who are installing private wells that the wells must conform to state regulations.

Leo Harvey, sanitarian, said the regulations apply whether the wells are used for sprinkling lawns or other domestic uses.

These regulations are designed to insure owners of a safe drinking water supply and to protect the ground water supply from contamination by improper well construction, Harvey said.

Residents in both Escanaba and Gladstone have had wells installed to sprinkle lawns after water rates were increased. Minimum of legal depth for a well in Michigan is 25 feet. The top 10 feet of the casing may not be used as a suction line. An outer protective casing must be installed outside of the top 10' of the drive casing as a suction line.

The reason for this is that when there is a suction on the drive casing, the well can easily be contaminated if openings develop in the casing from corrosion or improper connections, Harvey pointed out. The well casing, or extension thereof, must extend vertically at least 12 inches above the ground surface or basement floor.

The well must not be installed in pits unless connected to an approved basement.

A water data record is required for all wells installed in Michigan, whether by the home owner or a well contractor. Forms for completing these reports are available at the Health Department office in the Delta County Building, Escanaba.

Connections of water pipes between private wells and municipal supplies are forbidden by several State Ordinances.

Anyone contemplating installing a drive well should inquire of the local Health Department concerning requirements for construction.

David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gouin, and Kip is the son of the Ernest LaVigne, formerly of Escanaba.

Escanaba Man Hurt In Crash

CAMP GRAYLING—A Michigan Army National Guardsman from Escanaba was injured in a collision Tuesday between a civilian automobile and a military jeep.

Injured was Spec. 5 William C. Vau, 25, 111 S. 5th St., a member of Co. C of the 107th Engineer Battalion.

Vau was reported in satisfactory condition at Grayling Mercy Hospital. Details on the extent of his injuries were not released.

Vau was a passenger in the military jeep which was making a left turn at the time of the accident. Two other men in the jeep—the driver, William R. Sullivan, and another passenger, Robert Miller—escaped injury.

Military Police said the jeep rolled over when struck in the rear by a car driven by Lyle G. Lipp Sr., of Elsie. The car was passing another military vehicle and did not see the turning jeep in time to stop, officers said.

The accident happened about 11 a.m. as the jeep was making a turn off Howe Rd. onto M-93 about a half mile outside the camp.

Vau was the first National Guardsman reported at Camp Grayling, where some 4,000 Michigan National Guardsmen began two weeks of annual field training Saturday.

Woman Asks City To Come Clean; Water Bill $358

EAST DETROIT (AP)—"We couldn't have used that much water," said Mildred Cumper, staring at a water bill for $358.31.

"We don't even water the lawn because we don't have it finished yet," she added.

But the City of East Detroit Water Department insists the money is owed because, it says, the water meter shows that 83,400 gallons passed through the pipes.

Apparently the problem is caused by 30-year-old meters which were installed about 100 feet from the homes they serve. The connecting lines are the responsibility of the home owner, the water department said.

If there is a leak in the line, water escapes constantly. "A hole an eighth of an inch across can lose 4,000 gallons a day," said Amos Jury, superintendent for the utility.

Mail Order Book Service Starts In Alger County

The Alger County Library Board announces that through its contract with the Mid-Peninsula Library Federation, direct mail order library service will soon be available to county residents living outside the Munising school district. The latter is served by the Munising School and Public Library.

"Service will begin in mid-July," said Ralph W. Secord, Federation director. "When catalogues and order cards will be mailed to 1,177 households."

"Ordering books is easy and practical. The patron simply writes in the catalogue numbers of the books he wants, and drops the card in the mail. At Federation headquarters in Iron Mountain, the order is filled the day it arrives, and it sent to the patron by return mail in a reusable mailer bag. Also in the package are a return mailing label, postage, and a new order card. When the reader is done, he puts the books back in the bag and sends it back along with his new order. All postage is paid by the Federation."

For Everyone
Alger County residents will receive two catalogues — the basic 1,000 title catalogue and a 300 title supplement which has just been completed. Printed in tabloid newspaper size, the catalogues are illustrated and each title is accompanied by a short description to help readers find what they want. There are books for every age and every taste.

In adult fiction, for example, the patron can choose from recent best-sellers, classics, westerns, mysteries, and light romance. In non-fiction, the variety includes subjects of special interest to Northern Michigan readers — hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, Michigan history — as well as those of interest to everyone such as home decorating, cooking, child care, health, sports, arts and crafts, humor, science, biography, and current events.

The teenage reader will enjoy many of the adult selections as well as those chosen to appeal to his special interests. Younger children are interested in everything and the selection for them reflects it. Included are many of the best fiction and non-fiction for the older child.

Suited To Area
"For reasons of economics and ease of handling, storing, and mailing," said Secord, "most of these are paperback editions. We bought a minimum of three copies of each to accommodate multiple requests and additional requests are put on a reserve list — the book being sent as soon as it is available."

Members of the Alger County Library Board, Chairman Richard Hallifax of Munising, Mrs. B. Baron of Munising, Mrs. Walter Maki of Chatham, and Mrs. Sylvia Ostank of Trenary feel that mail order library service is ideally suited to the area. Personal contact with the library can be maintained without regard for the distance, weather, and driving conditions. The station libraries, presently located in Chatham, Trenary, and Grand Marais, will remain open for at least one year while the popularity of mail order library service is being evaluated.

The Federation initiated mail order library service last year in Baraga County with a Federal grant from the Michigan State Library and the response was excellent.

In addition to Alger County, the Federation also serves Baraga, Dickinson, Menominee, Iron, Delta, and Schoolcraft counties.

Mercury Found In U.P. River Quickly Curbed

LANSING (AP) — Mercury poisoning cropped up briefly in Michigan's Upper Peninsula Tuesday, but state officials said the discharge of mercury into a river was quickly controlled.

A statement from the office of Gov. William G. Milliken said the mercury compound had been used by the F.W. Means Corp., as a mildew control for its laundry operation at Caspian, south of Ironwood near the Wisconsin border.

Amounts estimated at one-quarter of a pound daily reportedly were discharged into the Iron River. Milliken said state laboratories were taking fish samples for analysis, but the chemical's effect was thought to be local.

More substantial incidents of the chemical's discharge earlier led both Milliken and Canadian authorities to curb fishing in the St. Clair and Lake St. Clair between Detroit and Windsor. Milliken later modified a total fishing ban to permit "catch and release" fishing.

Milliken, one of 17 governors who reportedly were sent telegrams requesting immediate action on mercury control, took the occasion to issue another plea for legislative action on a pollution control bill he especially favors.

The bill, stalled in the State Senate during the late days of the spring session, would levy a surveillance fee on industries that discharge waste into state waters and require them to file periodic reports specifying what materials are involved.

Milliken called the Iron County incident "further justification" for immediate passage of the bill, which cleared the House earlier this spring.

MCBAIN (AP)—A 25-year-old MCBain man, Thomas Hess, drowned Monday while cleaning a trout pond on his father's ranch near this Missaukee County community.

Al Lawrence, Highway Fund Chief, Retires

Alfred H. Lawrence, who supervised the handling of nearly $3.9 billion during Michigan's greatest roadbuilding era, will retire this week after 13 years as chief financial officer for the Department of State Highways.

The State Highway Commission, recognizing Lawrence's contribution to the state highway program, announced the naming of a freeway rest area south of Grayling in his honor.

Lawrence, 65, came to the Highway Department on July 1, 1957. As department controller, Lawrence directed accounting, auditing, budget control, payroll, financial planning activities, contracts and purchasing and stores. An average of $300 million in highway revenues passes through his office each year.

Recognized as one of Michigan's top government accountants, he took up highway financing after 2½ years as deputy state auditor. Earlier, he served four years as finance director for the City of Escanaba.

Lawrence was born in 1905 on a farm near the Menominee County community of Powers, where his grandparents opened the first general store and where his grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Archibald, became the first postmistress. The village was then an important junction of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad and Lawrence's father was a conductor for the railroad.

Graduating from Escanaba High School in 1923, Lawrence worked as a railroad clerk and as a reporter-bookkeeper for the Iron River Reporter. From 1926 to 1930, he studied ac-

From 1938 to 1942, Lawrence was the Upper Peninsula field advisory supervisor for the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission.

He entered the U. S. Army as a private in 1942 and emerged as a captain and assistant director of the fiscal division in the Office of the Surgeon General.

After working briefly for the Veterans Administration following the war, Lawrence opened a hardware and appliance store in Powers. He be-

Search On For Missing Aboard Sunken Vessel

MARRISBURG, Ont. (AP) — A team of divers explored the bulkheads of the Canadian freighter Eastcliffe Hall today, searching for the five remaining bodies of the nine persons who went down with her early Tuesday.

The 349-foot freighter, carrying a full load of pig iron, lay at a depth of about 70 feet at the bottom of the St. Lawrence River near this Canadian village, located midway between Massena, N.Y., and Cornwall, Ont.

She sank minutes after striking a rocky shoal in the pre-dawn hours Tuesday, as most of her crew and a few passengers slept in cabins below decks. Twelve of the 21 aboard survived.

"The people below decks didn't stand a chance," said Patrick Tollins of St. Catharines, Ont., who swam to safety ashore.

"We went down bow first in a matter of minutes," Tollins added.

Among the dead was the ship's captain, Richard Groulx, 46, of Montreal. Divers recovered his body Tuesday in the wheelhouse of the vessel.

Groulx's son, Alain, 16, was along for the ride. His body and the bodies of the wife and six-year-old daughter of the chief engineer also were recovered.

The other dead were identified as Chief Engineer Willy Demers, 46, of Charlesbourg, Que.; his wife, Jacqueline; their daughter, Nathalie, 6; Lawrence MacDougall, 33, of Kentville, N.S.; Freeman Barter, 29, of Ramea; Leonard Harris, 48, of New Chelsea, Nfld.; and Louis Boucher, 59, of Montreal.

Dean Chance started the 1970 season as the American League shutout leader with 32.

Trout Releases

About the same time that most of Escanaba was clustered in the yacht harbor to watch Miss America and the Venetian Night activities of the Escanaba Yacht Club, there was another event going on at the Municipal Dock. At the moment it hardly matched the pagentry and excitement in the harbor which was putting a cap on a busy day of dedication for Harbor Tower apartments, but in the long haul it may be just as significant.

A pair of tank trucks from the Jordan Valley Federal Hatchery in northern Lower Michigan brought 100,000 lake trout for release in Little Bay de Noc. The hatchery personnel had planned to make the release off the tip of Sand Point, but with all the traffic in the park they settled for the Municipal Dock as an alternative site.

The six to seven inch lake trout won't make any super sports fishing in the bay for a number of years, even if the release is successful and most of the fish survive and grow to adult size. The life cycle of lake trout is much slower than that of salmon and they don't get quite so big so fast. But coming on the heels of a similar release of lakens near the mouth of Ford River a year ago, the planting gives hope that Little Bay de Noc eventually will provide some of the top fishing in the Midwest.

It may not be significant for any number of biological or ecological reasons as far as lake trout are concerned, but it has been proven that brown trout can survive and thrive in Little Bay de Noc. The Steelhead, the Great Lakes research boat of the Department of Natural Resources, took 11 large brown trout in a single net set overnight last week. They ranged to over 14 pounds and all would have been trophy fish to take on hook and line.

Brown trout, of course, are different from lake trout, but if the browns can grow to such prodigious size in the bay then it is probable that lake trout can do the same. There were a few lamprey scars on the browns that were taken in the net, but not many and that's an indication that the predator eel which wiped out the lake trout population of Lake Michigan at least has been contained. In all probability the lamprey will never be eradicated from the lake, but with continuation of the control methods which have proved successful there is reason to believe that trout populations can be reintroduced.

In talking about the brown trout taken in the net of the Steelhead, fish biologist Dave Johnson of Escanaba suggested that fishermen troll along a ledge on the east side of the bay where the fish were caught, or along a similar ledge on the west side, in about 40 feet of water. Most people, however, don't have the gear for that type of fishing. Tackling a 14-pounder isn't done in a big lake on light line. And as yet, there are no charter boats operating out of the area so the fish go largely unchallenged.

But if the population of brown trout continues to thrive and enough lake trout grow to adult size to make the fishing productive, the charter boat business will come. And if the fishing is good in this area, it sure will beat a long drive to Lake Superior.

Return Of Stalin

For the first time since Premier Khrushchev denounced Joseph Stalin in a 1956 speech and ordered his body removed from its place of honor in Lenin's tomb and reburied in an inconspicuous spot beside the Kremlin wall, the Soviet regime recently erected a memorial to the late dictator.

The event is of more than passing interest, for it signals a change in attitude of the Communist party, which periodically rewrites history and rearranges symbols to conform to the party line of the moment. When Stalin and his record of murderous repression fell from favor in 1956, his statues were pulled down, his name purged from places such as Stalingrad (now Volgograd), and even his name struck from history books.

For 14 years the Soviet state has scarcely even recognized that Stalin ruled Russia for 29 years.

The reappearance of Stalin's image in public interestingly coincides with a renaissance of the repressive policies which kept him in power so long. Author Robert Conquest estimates that Stalin's various purges and repressions accounted for the deaths of at least 20 million Russians, a figure that may be low by half.

Now, after a period of relaxation, some of the old police-state methods return, with present-day refinements. The insane asylum has become an instrument of tyranny, a place for those "insane" enough to criticize the regime. This is the fate, for instance, of Gen. Peter Grigorenko, a war hero, whose crime is that he criticized the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Another such victim is Russian biologist Zhores A. Medvedev, detained in a mental hospital following writings critical of limitations on free speech and work discrediting geneticist Trofim Lysenko, a favorite of Stalin.

In a protest entitled "This Is How We Live," author Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsky describes the manner of detention: "Without any warrant for arrest or any medical justification, four policemen and two doctors come to a healthy man's house. The doctors declare that he is crazy; the police officer shouts, 'We are the organs of force! Get up!' They bend his arms back and take him to the madhouse. . . . This can happen tomorrow to any of us. . . ."

Twenty years after Stalin's passing Russia still suffers under his legacy of repression and death.

Peninsula Potpourri

The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved the issuance of $56,000 in revenue bonds for water system improvements in St. Ignace Township, Mackinac County.

Concrete is being poured in Menominee in the first stages of construction of a new $500,000 Carpenter Cook wholesale grocery warehouse. The single-story building will be 427 feet long and 240 feet wide.

Class War Comes To North Ireland

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
In Northern Ireland the war, as it appears in the headlines, is religious.

That fantastic Elmer Gantry of North Irish Protestantism, Rev. Ian Paisley, who sits in the British House of Commons as well as the Ulster parliament, would have you believe that "Popery" is the issue. So he disrupts an "ecumenical" guest Mass celebrated by Catholics in Britain's Anglican Canterbury Cathedral, raising a hub in a country not his own for the sake of publicity in Ulster.

Catholics in Belfast respond to Paisley's provocations by clobbering Protestants. But someone — meaning the Northern Irish common man, both Catholic and Presbyterian — is being had. Under the surface a hard Left which has no particular interest in religion of any sort edges things along. The common man, a pawn of revolutionists, gets killed.

The object of the war is not to win civil rights in North Ireland; that phase is already closed. Every citizen, whether Catholic or Protestant, poor or rich, now has the vote. The administration of the city of Londonderry — or Derry, as you must call it to please its citizens — is in Catholic hands. In Belfast's Stormont Castle the ruling Unionist party, a centrist body, is doing its best to provide housing and to create jobs; its welfare payments, reinforced from London, provide a higher standard of living for the poor than may be obtained in Eire.

But the war in Northern Ireland goes on because revolutionists want to turn it into a class war. Fiery Ian McCann, who headed the civil rights movement yesterday, is now openly crusading for a united Ireland under socialist rule. If Bernadette Devlin were out of jail she would be helping him.

Curiously enough, McCann gets little support for his "combined socialist Ireland" in Dublin. A majority of Eire's Irishmen might like to see the North and the South joined together under one flag at some point along the road, but they don't want it to be under socialist auspices and they hesitate to see it accomplished by violence. They don't wish Ireland to become a European Cuba.

How can this be said with any certainty? A poll conducted by the (southern) Irish magazine, This Week, tells a fairly convincing story. To a question, "Would you approve or disapprove of arms being supplied from the 26 counties to people in the North?" 83 per cent disapproved, 11 per cent approved, and 6 per cent said they didn't have an opinion. There was no generation gap in the vote; the under-35s respondents divided by percentages that were almost identical with the older vote. The women, however, were a bit more pacifist than the men. At least one male in ten in the south would like to see gun-running continue.

If Rev. Paisley wants to keep the religious war going, he is not joined by churches other than his own. The troubles in Northern Ireland have brought the four major denominations in both North and South Ireland together in a tougher ecumenical stance than they have shown in a generation.

William Cardinal Conway, the Catholic primate of Ireland (he is also Archbishop of Armagh, which is St. Patrick's old stamping ground), joins with the Rev. John Carson, moderator of the Presbyterian Church, in asking for a cessation of the religious war. They are supported by the Anglican Archbishop of Dublin, George Sims, and by Rev. George Good, president of the Methodist Church.

So Ulster could have peace if the extremists would only lay off. But peace is not the ex-

FIRE WAGES
In your coverage of our wage arbitration with the City of Escanaba you reported several remarks by City Controller Howard Smale to which we would like to respond. Particularly, we are concerned about Mr. Smale's statement that the fire department budget has increased 85 per cent in the past five years. Mr. Smale produced no evidence at our hearing to support such an assertion.

The one fact that we demonstrated repeatedly during the arbitration is that firemen have been subject to discrimination by the City of Escanaba with respect to the granting of wages. As a result, a considerable disparity now exists between wages paid to firemen and wages paid to other city employees, including policemen. In the course of one year, a fireman is required to work 2912 hours. Other city employees, including policemen, have a normal work requirement of only 2080 in a year. The 832 additional hours worked by firemen is equal to 104 eight hour days.

In its present contract with the Teamsters Union, the City of Escanaba provides for a base pay rate of $7,337 annually for patrolmen who work a normal week of 40 hours. The base pay rate of a fire captain, who ranks second within his department only to the Chief, is $7,504. Members of the fire department work a normal work week of 56 hours. A firefighter, who is equivalent in rank to a patrolman, presently receives a base pay rate of only $6,270 annually — $1,267 less than a patrolman.

As firefighters are responsible for the safety of the community that we serve. This responsibility requires that we spend a larger portion of our lives and undertake greater risk to our own personal safety than do any other group of city employees, including policemen.

If the cost of fire protection to the City of Escanaba has increased 85 per cent within the past five years, Mr. Smale, himself a former policeman, knows that this increase is not properly attributable to wages received by firemen. He also knows, as do the citizens of this community who depend upon and support our services, that firefighters cannot be asked to subsidize the cost of improved protection by settling for less than a decent wage.

We consider a decent wage to be a wage that is comparable to wages received by other city employees, including policemen. In light of the hours that we dedicate to our jobs and considering the risks to which we submit ourselves, we believe that our case is sound.

When he was in the U.S., Ian McCann, who keeps a picture of Lenin on his office wall at home, spoke for four hours to a group on 14th St. in New York City. At this meeting a visitor could have signed with any one of three organizations, the People's Democracy (Marxist and Castroite), the National Association for Irish Justice (for a united proletarian Ireland), or the Socialist International. One visitor joined them all — and the literature he collects from them is interchangeable.

The Orangemen still fight the Wearing of the Green in North Ireland. But a more sinister war goes on for the soul of a country.

If the hard Left wins, and a socialist worker flag flies over the whole of Ireland, all the old symbols and traditions, along with the religions that gave them sanction, will shrivel.

It's a tall order, but Northern Ireland must become as ecumenical as Switzerland if any of its religions are to persist.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Christian Belon, who hijacked a Trans World Airlines jet from Paris to Beirut in January, has been transferred from prison to a hospital for psychiatric treatment.

Opening lead—four of hearts. It is clearly wrong to double the opponents for penalties at a high-level contract — even though you surely have them beaten—if the double may drive them into some other contract that they might make.

East neglected to follow this time-honored principle when he doubled six no-trump after South had foolishly bid it. East would have defeated six no-trump four tricks had he simply passed and led the A-K-J-10 of spades.

But he doubled instead of passing, and it was not difficult for North—who knew that an ace was missing—to realize that East was about to lead the A-K of spades against six no-trump doubled and that a heavy penalty might ensue.

So North ran to seven diamonds, hoping that West would choose the wrong major suit to lead, and this hope materialized when West—who had no clear indication where to attack—chose the four of hearts for his opening salvo.

As a result, South made seven diamonds for a score of 2,440 points, which was exactly what he would have done had East acted more judiciously and passed six no-trump.

South was extraordinarily lucky to come up smelling like a rose after his dreadful six no-trump bid. It is basic in any partnership that the player who initiates Blackwood is captain of the team and determines the final contract.

In line with this theory, South should therefore have passed six clubs after North had bid it, but, as Shakespeare so aptly put it: All's well that ends well.

Ann Landers Neurologist Made 'Man' Out Of Husband

Dear Ann Landers: I was very much interested in the letter from "Wife of a Maniac," because my husband behaved very much like him. He used to break dishes and furniture, kick holes in the wall and scream obscenities at everyone. I was unable to figure out why his personality was changing. He had always been so easy-going.

One evening he lost his temper when a well known political figure was making a speech on TV. He began to scream at the set and carry on like a lunatic. Our pediatrician happened to be in the house checking the baby at the time. He took me aside and suggested that when my husband calmed down I should insist that he get a complete physical check-up including an encephalogram. It was the smartest thing I every did.

Our family physician sent my husband to a neurologist who discovered a brain abnormality which he said might be causing his violent temper outbursts. My husband is now taking a drug called Dilantin and it has changed his life—and mine. I bless that pediatrician every day of my life, Ann. I hope you will print this letter. It might help someone else.—Denver Mother

Dear Mother: I received several letters describing similar incidents. The drug Dilantin has proved very successful in the treatment of epilepsy and other forms of brain abnormality. Dilantin, of course, must be obtained through prescription and taken under a doctor's observation.

Thank you for your letter. It once again points out the necessity for a physical check-up in cases of extreme personality changes. People should not be written off as stubborn, punky or rock-headed without first exploring the possibility that there is an organic reason for unusual behavior.

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter and her baby are living with us until her husband comes back from Vietnam. Her in-laws come over every Sunday, rain or shine. They are nice folks and we like them, but my husband and I don't feel that we should have to spend every Sunday of our lives entertaining these people. We don't want to hurt their feelings, Ann. How about some advice on how to handle this hot potato?—Trapped in Tennessee

Dear Trapped: If your daughter has no transportation of her own, offer to drive her to their house on alternate Sundays. This move cuts the problem in half immediately.

And if you and your husband want to go somewhere—go. You are not obligated to stay at home every Sunday to entertain unwelcome guests.

Dear Ann Landers: Mom says I am crazy to write to you about turtles because your column is for people, but I have something important to say.

I have found out that the people who sell turtles in dime stores and pet stores don't know much about them. Turtles are fish and meat eaters. Just put a piece of raw hamburger or fish in front of a turtle and watch him snap at it. That food they sell in stores is junk. A turtle can starve to death on it.—Just Me

Dear Just: In behalf of every turtle in the U.S.A., plus Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico, I thank you.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Trout Releases

About the same time that most of Escanaba was clustered in the yacht harbor to watch Miss America and the Venetian Night activities of the Escanaba Yacht Club, there was another event going on at the Municipal Dock. At the moment it hardly matched the pagentry and excitement in the harbor which was putting a cap on a busy day of dedication for Harbor Tower apartments, but in the long haul it may be just as significant.

A pair of tank trucks from the Jordan Valley Federal Hatchery in northern Lower Michigan brought 100,000 lake trout for release in Little Bay de Noc. The hatchery personnel had planned to make the release off the tip of Sand Point, but with all the traffic in the park they settled for the Municipal Dock as an alternative site.

The six to seven inch lake trout won't make any super sports fishing in the bay for a number of years, even if the release is successful and most of the fish survive and grow to adult size. The life cycle of lake trout is much slower than that of salmon and they don't get quite so big so fast. But coming on the heels of a similar release of lakies near the mouth of Ford River a year ago, the planting gives hope that Little Bay de Noc eventually will provide some of the top fishing in the Midwest.

It may not be significant for any number of biological or ecological reasons as far as lake trout are concerned, but it has been proven that brown trout can survive and thrive in Little Bay de Noc. The Steelhead, the Great Lakes research boat of the Department of Natural Resources, took 11 large brown trout in a single net set overnight last week. They ranged to over 14 pounds and all would have been trophy fish to take on hook and line.

Brown trout, of course, are different from lake trout, but if the browns can grow to such prodigious size in the bay then it is probable that lake trout can do the same. There were a few lamprey scars on the browns that were taken in the net, but not many and that's an indication that the predator eel which wiped out the lake trout population of Lake Michigan at least has been contained. In all probability the lamprey will never be eradicated from the lake, but with continuation of the control methods which have proved successful there is reason to believe that trout populations can be reintroduced.

In talking about the brown trout taken in the net of the Steelhead, fish biologist Dave Johnson of Escanaba suggested that fishermen troll along a ledge on the east side of the bay where the fish were caught, or along a similar ledge on the west side, in about 40 feet of water. Most people, however, don't have the gear for that type of fishing. Tackling a 14-pounder isn't done in a big lake on light line. And as yet, there are no charter boats operating out of the area so the fish go largely unchallenged.

But if the population of brown trout continues to thrive and enough lake trout grow to adult size to make the fishing productive, the charter boat business will come. And if the fishing is good in this area, it sure will beat a long drive to Lake Superior.

Return Of Stalin

For the first time since Premier Khrushchev denounced Joseph Stalin in a 1956 speech and ordered his body removed from its place of honor in Lenin's tomb and reburied in an inconspicuous spot beside the Kremlin wall, the Soviet regime recently erected a memorial to the late dictator.

The event is of more than passing interest, for it signals a change in attitude of the Communist party, which periodically rewrites history and rearranges symbols to conform to the party line of the moment. When Stalin and his record of murderous repression fell from favor in 1956, his statues were pulled down, his name purged from places such as Stalingrad (now Volgograd), and even his name struck from history books.

For 14 years the Soviet state has scarcely even recognized that Stalin ruled Russia for 29 years.

The reappearance of Stalin's image in public interestingly coincides with a renaissance of the repressive policies which kept him in power so long. Author Robert Conquest estimates that Stalin's various purges and repressions accounted for the deaths of at least 20 million Russians, a figure that may be low by half.

Now, after a period of relaxation, some of the old police-state methods return, with present-day refinements. The insane asylum has become an instrument of tyranny, a place for those "insane" enough to criticize the regime. This is the fate, for instance, of Gen. Peter Grigorenko, a war hero, whose crime is that he criticized the invasion of Czechoslovakia.

Another such victim is Russian biologist Zhores A. Medvedev, detained in a mental hospital following writings critical of limitations on free speech and work discrediting geneticist Trofim Lysenko, a favorite of Stalin.

In a protest entitled "This Is How We Live," author Aleksandr I. Solzhenitsyn describes the manner of detention: "Without any warrant for arrest or any medical justification, four policemen and two doctors come to a healthy man's house. The doctors declare that he is crazy; the police officer shouts, 'We are the organs of force! Get up!' They bend his arms back and take him to the madhouse. . . . This can happen tomorrow to any of us. . . ."

Twenty years after Stalin's passing Russia still suffers under his legacy of repression and death.

Class War Comes To North Ireland

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

In Northern Ireland the war, as it appears in the headlines, is religious.

That fantastic Elmer Gantry of North Irish Protestantism, Rev. Ian Paisley, who sits in the British House of Commons as well as the Ulster parliament, would have you believe that "Popery" is the issue. So he disrupts an "ecumenical" guest Mass celebrated by Catholics in Britain's Anglican Canterbury Cathedral, raising a hub in a country not his own for the sake of publicity in Ulster.

Catholics in Belfast respond to Paisley's provocations by clobbering Protestants.

My husband is now taking a drug called Dilantin and it has changed his life—and mine. I bless that pediatrician every day of my life, Ann. I hope you will print this letter. It might help someone else.—Denver Mother

Dear Den Mother: I received several letters describing similar incidents. The drug Dilantin has proved very successful in the treatment of epilepsy and other forms of brain abnormality. Dilantin, of course, must be obtained through prescription and taken under a doctor's observation.

Thank you for your letter. It once again points up the necessity for a physical check-up in cases of extreme personality changes. People should not be written off as stubborn, punitive or rock-headed without first exploring the possibility that there is an organic reason for unusual behavior.

Dear Ann Landers: My daughter and her baby are living with us until her husband comes back from Vietnam. Her in-laws come over every Sunday, rain or shine. They are nice folks and we like them, but my husband and I don't feel that we should have to spend every Sunday of our lives entertaining these people. We don't want to hurt their feelings, Ann. How about some advice on how to handle this hot potato?—Trapped in Tennessee

Dear Trapped: If your daughter has no transportation of her own, offer to drive her to their house on alternate Sundays. This move cuts the problem in half immediately.

And if you and your husband want to go somewhere—go. You are not obligated to stay at home every Sunday to entertain uninvited guests.

Dear Ann Landers: Mom says I am crazy to write to you about turtles because your column is for people, but I have something important to say.

I have found out that the people who sell turtles in dime stores and pet stores don't know much about them. Turtles are fish and meat eaters. Just put a piece of raw hamburger or fish in front of a turtle and watch him snap at it. That food they sell in stores is junk. A turtle can starve to death on it.—Just Me

Dear Just: In behalf of every turtle in the U.S.A., plus Canada, Mexico and Puerto Rico, I thank you.

Do you feel ill at ease... out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

From the Files of the Escanaba Daily Press

25 Years Ago

Escanaba is represented among the 153 newly arrived reservists who are attending the Michigan College of Mining and Technology under the Army Specialized Training Reserve program by Harold W. Butler, Rte. 1, Escanaba, son of Francis M. Butler.

Mrs. Ed Lamberg, of Rapid River, entertained at a party for her daughter Rosellen who was 11 years old. Table decorations were green and pink. The youngsters spent a pleasant afternoon in playing games and a lunch was served. Guests were: Anita Person, Mary Lee Lind, Stephen Johnson, Paul Erickson and Marlene Schroeeder.

50 Years Ago

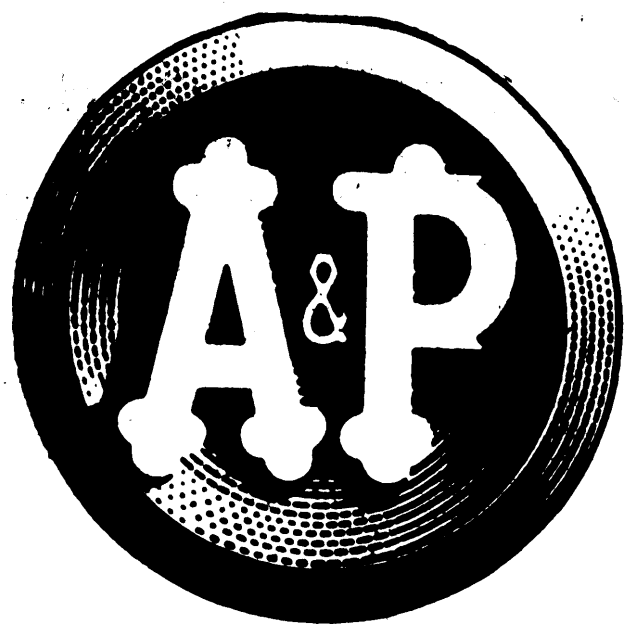

Frank Hoppe, pocket billiard expert, will give an exhibition at Seale's. Hoppe is a brother of the famous Willie Hoppe. Both are champions, but Frank's honors were won on a "pocket" table, where he excels even his illustrious brother.

Masse and jump shots, rail billiards, and explanations of any shots on which spectators desire information, will feature the exhibition program. There will be a variety of fancy plays on both billiard and pocket tables, and Hoppe will also demonstrate his skill at match play with a local "shark."

Because Tongans are fond of fat and oily foods, and consider pig's liver a delicacy fit only for chiefs, one of the highest compliments a youth of the South Pacific islands can pay a girl is to describe her as a "fat liver full of oil."

Open house will be held for friends and relatives of the couple at the Social Room in Bethany from 4 to 7 p.m. A buffet lunch will be served by the Love Unit, of which Mrs. Anderson is a member.

George C. Anderson, formerly of Groos and Inga Dahlquist of Escanaba were united in marriage on July 25, 1945 at Bethany by the Rev. Gustav Lund. Attendants for the couple were Elsie Erickson Guindon and Wallace Lorenson, both of Escanaba.

The Andersons resided in Groos for 17 years and have been residents of Escanaba for the past eight years. Mr. Anderson is employed at Northern Motor Builders and is a major in the U.S. Army Reserve. Mrs. Anderson is employed by the county as secretary for the Cooperative Extension Service.

They are the parents of four children, Nancy, a 1969 graduate of Michigan State University with a B.A. degree in special education. She is now serving in May Pen, Jamaica as a Peace Corp volunteer. Wayne, a senior at Michigan State University, Robert employed at the Holiday Station here and member of the Michigan National Guard, and Patricia, freshman at Michigan State University.

B&PW Members Enjoy Social Meet Tuesday

The club voted to have the year books printed. Mrs. Lucille Clausohn was accepted as a member.

Huber Challenging

GOP Establishment Is Worried About Lenore

By DON HOENSELL
Press Staff Writer

LANSING — Establishment Republicans are looking for ways to save Mrs. Lenore Romney's campaign for the U.S. Senate from disaster.

They have more to lose than they can afford if darkhorse Sen. Robert J. Huber (R-Troy) upsets her.

And Huber is running a slambang campaign on the issues, parading a form of neo-conservatism before the voters — and ripping the establishment for making Mrs. Romney the consensus choice.

Huber could wreak havoc by winning or coming close in his primary race with Mrs. Romney for the chance to challenge Democratic U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart in November. Here's why:

• Party leaders chose Mrs. Romney in a selection process that approached hilarity. It took several meetings, some arm twisting and some enacting interpretations of the vote to make the decision.

• Gov. Milliken and Republican U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin feel they owe former Gov. George Romney a great deal for the use of his coat of arms in 1966 when they were wide and persuasive.

• Huber boycotted the selection process and launched his own campaign in defiance of the party brass, challenging Mrs. Romney to debate and blasting her husband's national housing program.

The trouble is that Huber is saying things on the issues and Mrs. Romney isn't, yet. She has before her the example of Gov. Romney's abortive run for the presidency when he was trapped by piercing questions on national and international issues — and was unprepared to answer.

On Both Sides

Mrs. Romney herself was trapped on the issue of Cambodia. She has been on both sides, alternately a hawk and a dove.

As the troops came marching out of Cambodia on June 29 — a day before the President's deadline — Mrs. Romney said that was her deadline, too, for approving the decision to send them in.

With three weeks to go before the Aug. 4 primary, Mrs. Romney said:

"I see a lot of momentum building up."

Griffin didn't see the same momentum as Huber roared on, claiming that a national maga-

Huber To Visit Escanaba Friday

Sen. Robert J. Huber will be in Escanaba Friday as part of a two-day campaign blitz through the Upper Peninsula.

Huber is scheduled to arrive at the Escanaba Municipal Airport at 3 p. m. and remain in the city for about an hour before departing for St. Ignace.

During the tour, he also will visit South St. Marie, Munising, Marquette, Houghton, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Menominee and Green Bay, Wis. The tour of the U. P. will be his first of the campaign.

zine poll had reduced Mrs. Romney's popularity when ranged against Hart.

Says Race Is Even

Huber now claims he is at least even with the wife of the man who gave Republicans a new life in Michigan.

"Yes, there is concern," said Griffin. "I don't think it (Lenore's victory) can be taken for granted. It could be a lot closer at another level, State Senator John F. Toepp (R-Cadillac) is amazed that his colleague in Lansing — who has stayed away from GOP caucuses for 18 months — is making a real challenge to Mrs. Romney.

"He's coming up, no question about it," Toepp said. "I find this in my own district."

Rep. Edgar Geerlings (R-Muskegon) said there's not so much talk about a Huber victory in his district as there is about the generalities and no-position posture of Mrs. Romney's campaign.

Political Fighter

Milliken sees Huber as a political gut-fighter whose technique is not the gentlemanly way to treat a lady, even in politics.

Huber has no stars in his eyes. His campaign implies that the only payoff is winning and he's willing to take on anybody in his way.

Top Republicans feel it is inconceivable that Huber could defeat Mrs. Romney — or even come close — in such a short time as allowed for primary campaigning.

Milliken has said the campaigns will be separate but coordinated. Griffin has two more years before he faces the voters again.

Owe Romney

Milliken was George Romney's choice for lieutenant governor over now State Treasurer Allison Green, former House speaker. No one questioned Romney's decision because no one ever did.

Griffin was a young Congressman from Traverse City whom Romney tapped as the consensus GOP choice for the U.S. Senate in 1966. Griffin was the popular underdog against Former Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who defeated Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh in the Democratic primary. Griffin campaigned hard and won.

Now both Griffin and Milliken — both loyal men who

Some Graduates Getting Summer Court Lesson

EAST DETROIT, Mich. (AP)

—Some 14 youths went to municipal court Tuesday on charges resulting from a large June graduation party, which was finally broken up by a total combined force of five police and fire departments.

Two of the students were found guilty of disorderly conduct. Judge Calvin Rock referred the case to the city's five-man Protective Service Commission for sentencing.

The 12 other cases — two on charges of assaulting a police officer and 10 on charges of disorderly conduct — were adjourned without a new trial date so the youths could hire attorneys.

More than 400 youths attended the graduation party.

never renege on a debt — feel they must do something, even at the risk of propriety, to pump life into Mrs. Romney's campaign.

There have been other instances of the use of political clout in primary races, but none quite so chaotic as the Romney problem.

Want To Help

In 1954, then Gov. Williams solidly backed Hart for lieutenant governor against George F. Fitzgerald, a Teamsters lawyer.

Hart won handsily.

Earlier, Williams backed former U.S. Senator Blair Moody against Patrick V. McNamara, a former Detroit City Councilman. Moody died from pneumonia before the primary and Williams embraced McNamara, the only thing left to do.

Remembering all these things, Milliken and Griffin want to help Mrs. Romney.

She has hired a crew from McManus, John and Adams, a Detroit advertising firm, to run her campaign. She has no one to guide her from the experience of Michigan politics.

That's another reason Milliken and Griffin want to help. If Mrs. Romney fails, they could lose, too.

Trip To Moon Under Attack At Church Meet

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet delegates defended their nation on questions of religious freedom and a guest from Thailand questioned the propriety of moon missions when much of the world is hungry in discussions at the Baptist World Congress Tuesday.

Ilia G. Ivanof, pastor of Moscow Baptist Church, replied to questions in a symposium on religious freedom by saying freedom exists in the Soviet Union.

"Only one condition exists for these freedoms, and that is that we obey the law," Ivanof said. "We acknowledge and respect the laws of our country."

A British Baptist pastor, Roger Hayden, said there are varying degrees of denial of religious freedom in such countries as Red China and other Communist countries, Spain, Colombia and South Africa. In South Africa, he said, the racial separation imposed on churches is an abridgement of religious freedom.

In an address to the congress, which opened Sunday with 10,000 Baptists from 77 nations, U Kyaw Than, general secretary of the East Asian Christian Conference in Bangkok, said the three main issues Christians should tackle are peace, hunger and reconciliation between people and nations.

"While two-thirds of the world is begging for bread," Than said, "the wealth of the nation that could provide bread is spent on a space venture to bring back a rock from the moon."

In a congress sermon, the Rev. Dr. John W. Williams, pastor of St. Stephen Baptist Church in Kansas City, Mo., said Christians cannot permit without protest a divided world that pits brother against brother because Christianity proclaims "very starkly that every homicide is a fratricide and every war a civil war."

The six-day congress ends Saturday with a closing address by American evangelist Billy Graham.

Huber Challenging

GOP Establishment Is Worried About Lenore

By DON HOENSHELL
Panax Staff Writer

LANSING — Establishment Republicans are looking for ways to save Mrs. Lenore Romney's campaign for the U.S. Senate from disaster.

They have more to lose than they can afford if darkhorse Sen. Robert J. Huber (R-Troy) upsets her.

And Huber is running a slambang campaign on the issues, parading a form of neo-conservatism before the voters — and ripping the establishment for making Mrs. Romney the consensus choice.

Huber could wreak havoc by winning or coming close in his primary race with Mrs. Romney for the chance to challenge Democratic U.S. Senator Philip A. Hart in November. Here's why:

- Party leaders chose Mrs. Romney in a selection process that approached hilarity. It took several meetings, some arm twisting and some enchanting interpretations of the vote to make the decision.

- Gov. Milliken and Republican U.S. Senator Robert P. Griffin feel they owe former Gov. George Romney a great deal for the use of his coat of arms in 1966 when they were wide and persuasive.

- Huber boycotted the selection process and launched his own campaign in defiance of the party brass, challenging Mrs. Romney to debate and blasting her husband's national housing program.

The trouble is that Huber is saying things on the issues and Mrs. Romney isn't, yet. She has before her the example of Gov. Romney's abortive run for the presidency when he was trapped by piercing questions on national and international issues — and was unprepared to answer.

On Both Sides

Mrs. Romney herself was trapped on the issue of Cambodia. She has been on both sides, alternately a hawk and a dove.

As the troops came marching out of Cambodia on June 29 — a day before the President's deadline — Mrs. Romney said that was her deadline, too, for approving the decision to send them in.

With three weeks to go before the Aug. 4 primary, Mrs. Romney said:

"I see a lot of momentum building up."

Griffin didn't see the same momentum as Huber roared on, claiming that a national magais amazed that his colleague in Lansing — who has stayed away from GOP caucuses for 18 months — is making a real challenge to Mrs. Romney.

"He's coming up, no question about it," Toepp said. "I find this in my own district."

Rep. Edgar Geerlings (R-Muskegon) said there's not so much talk about a Huber victory in his district as there is about the generalities and no-position posture of Mrs. Romney's campaign.

Political Fighter

Milliken sees Huber as a political gut-fighter whose technique is not the gentlemanly way to treat a lady, even in politics.

Huber has no stars in his eyes. His campaign implies that the only payoff is winning and he's willing to take on anybody in his way.

Top Republicans feel it is inconceivable that Huber could defeat Mrs. Romney — or even come close — in such a short time as allowed for primary campaigning.

Milliken has said the campaigns will be separate but coordinated. Griffin has two more years before he faces the voters again.

Owe Romney

Milliken was George Romney's choice for lieutenant governor over now State Treasurer Allison Green, former House speaker. No one questioned Romney's decision because no one ever did.

Griffin was a young Congressman from Traverse City whom Romney tapped as the consensus GOP choice for the U.S. Senate in 1966. Griffin was the popular underdog against Former Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who defeated Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh in the Democratic primary. Griffin campaigned hard and won.

Now both Griffin and Milliken — both loyal men who

Some Graduates Getting Summer Court Lesson

EAST DETROIT, Mich. (AP) — Some 14 youths went to municipal court Tuesday on charges resulting from a large June graduation party, which was finally broken up by a total combined force of five police and fire departments.

Two of the students were found guilty of disorderly conduct. Judge Calvin Rock referred the case to the city's five-man Protective Service Commission for sentencing.

The 12 other cases — two on charges of assaulting a police officer and 10 on charges of disorderly conduct — were adjourned without a new trial date so the youths could hire attorneys.

More than 400 youths attended the graduation party.

never renege on a debt — feel they must do something, even at the risk of propriety, to pump life into Mrs. Romney's campaign.

There have been other instances of the use of political clout in primary races, but none quite so chaotic as the Romney problem.

Want To Help

In 1954, then Gov. Williams solidly backed Hart for lieutenant governor against George F. Fitzgerald, a Teamsters lawyer.

Hart won handily. Earlier, Williams backed former U.S. Senator Blair Moody against Patrick V. McNamara, a former Detroit City Councilman. Moody died from pneumonia before the primary and Williams embraced McNamara, the only thing left to do.

Remembering all these things, Milliken and Griffin want to help Mrs. Romney.

She has hired a crew from McManus, John and Adams, a Detroit advertising firm, to run her campaign. She has no one to guide her from the experience of Michigan politics.

That's another reason Milliken and Griffin want to help.

If Mrs. Romney fails, they could lose, too.

Trip To Moon Under Attack At Church Meet

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet delegates defended their nation on questions of religious freedom and a guest from Thailand questioned the propriety of moon missions when much of the world is hungry in discussions at the Baptist World Congress Tuesday.

Ilya G. Ivanof, pastor of Moscow Baptist Church, replied to questions in a symposium on religious freedom by saying freedom exists in the Soviet Union.

"Only one condition exists for these freedoms, and that is that we obey the law," Ivanof said. "We acknowledge and respect the laws of our country."

A British Baptist pastor, Roger Hayden, said there are varying degrees of denial of religious freedom in such countries as Red China and other Communist countries, Spain, Colombia and South Africa. In South Africa, he said, the racial separation imposed on churches is an abridgement of religious freedom.

In an address to the congress, which opened Sunday with 10,000 Baptists from 77 nations, U Kyaw Than, general secretary of the East Asian Christian Conference in Bangkok, said the three main issues Christians should tackle are peace, hunger and reconciliation between people and nations.

"While two-thirds of the world is begging for bread," Than

said, "the wealth of the nation that could provide bread is spent on a space venture to bring back a rock from the moon."

In a congress sermon, the Rev. Dr. John W. Williams, pastor of St. Stephen Baptist Church in Kansas City, Mo., said Christians cannot permit without protest a divided world that pits brother against brother because Christianity proclaims "very starkly that every homicide is a fratricide and every war a civil war."

The six-day congress ends Saturday with a closing address by American evangelist Billy Graham.

The weekend ceremony at the Fern Grotto was attended by MacArthur's mother, actress Helen Hayes, and about 25 members of the cast and production staff of the TV series.

It was the second marriage for MacArthur, 31, and the first for his 21-year-old bride.

registration total of more than 350, with an estimated actual attendance (including couples, families, etc.) of about 500 persons.

Youngest exhibitor this year was Billy Heminger, 13, with several pencil-portraits. Stephen Johnson, 16, a junior at Manistique High School, had an impressive display in several different media: acrylic paintings, charcoal sketches, a water color poster, and chalk drawings. Stephen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson of Indian Lake, has been first-prize winner in District 1, in the Upper Peninsula State Fair Premium Book Cover Contest, for the past two years.

Unique Entry

Karl Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson, 223 Main Street, Manistique, a junior engineering student at Michigan Tech in Houghton, had one of the most unique entries in the 1970 Art Fair with a series of sample "Computer Pictures" — pictures "drawn" by computer print-out, based on data fed into the machine.

Mrs. Dixon and Mrs. William Foy of the Art Club, said "We are grateful to all our Manistique residents and visitors for making the 1970 Art Fair the success that it was. We have felt for a long time — as have others in the community that we have talked to about this — that this kind of event can add a great deal to the total picture of summer activity for Schoolcraft County. We do have some very accomplished artists and handicrafters in this area. The kind of response that we received this year will provide encouragement to them and also, we hope, to others who are interested in learning how rewarding this kind of self-expression can be. The whole community can only benefit from such a growth of interest in the arts."

No Action Taken On Quarry Swimming Ban

City Council discussed the need for a "no swimming" ban at the quarry Monday night but took no action to enforce such a ruling. The city did agree, however, to repair the fencing around the quarry and will also replace playground equipment removed from the area when grading operations began for the low-income housing project.

More Use Seen
The swimming ban discussion came up after an observation that the quarry could become an "attractive nuisance" since more and more children will be in the area with the opening of the new Little League field, adjacent to the quarry.

The quarry is a popular swimming and fishing site for many young people in the city. There is no adult supervision and several accidents, including one drowning several years ago, have been reported.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Messier-Broullire Funeral Home for Mrs. Edward (Clarabelle) Lupton, 82, Rte. 1, who died Sunday at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital.

Rev. Norman Weaver, pastor of the Maple Grove Mennonite Church, officiated while Mrs. Roy LaMarche was organist for the service. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers were Leon Heinz, Leon Carroll, Faye Patterson, Wayne Shaffer, Gerald Paradise and Amos Baldwin.

No Action Taken On Quarry Swimming Ban

City Council discussed the need for a "no swimming" ban at the quarry Monday night but took no action to enforce such a ruling. The city did agree, however, to repair the fencing around the quarry and will also replace playground equipment removed from the area when grading operations began for the low-income housing project.

More Use Seen
The swimming ban discussion came up after an observance that the quarry could become an "attractive nuisance" since more and more children will be in the area with the opening of the new Little League field, adjacent to the quarry.

The quarry is a popular swimming and fishing site for many young people in the city. There is no adult supervision and several accidents, including one drowning several years ago, have been reported.

Dance Permit OK'd
Mayor Pro-Tem Leo DeMars said a Housing and Urban Development representative will be here Thursday to discuss possible federal funding of a relocation project for residents of Weston Ave.

Before adjourning, council approved a request for a dance permit at Colluzzi's Bar, subject to approval of the Public Safety Director; approved continuance of condemnation proceedings on a building at N. Fifth and Caribou Sts.; and recognized the Jaycees for their work on the restoration project at the Imogene Herbert Museum and the opening of the new Little League field.

Hospital
Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital Monday were James Whitney, Verner Rose, Vernon Bloomstrom, Hazel Smith, Kevin Lemp, Delina Archambeau, John Danko, John Thompson, Danny Drees, Linda Norbottin, Sarah Haley and Marilyn Henry.

Discharged were Connie Donovan, Suzette Messer and baby.

Russians Re-Elect Premier Kosygin

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet unanimously re-elected Alexei N. Kosygin premier of the Soviet Union today. He is to present his cabinet nominations later in the current session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, but there has been no indication whether there will be any changes.

Election of a government is a formality required because this is the first session of the new parliament elected last month. Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev nominated Kosygin at a joint session of the two houses, and he was confirmed by the usual show of hands.

"The service just wasn't patronized," said Gilbert Loshek of Milwaukee, assistant regional manager for Greyhound Lines, Inc.

"This was originally a guarantee run by the Chicago & North Western," Loshek said, "and they informed us that they're not going to continue the guarantee."

Without the guarantee income from the railroad, he said, Greyhound cannot continue to operate the service.

The buses—one southbound leaving Escanaba at 1:45 p.m. and one northbound at 6:55 p.m.—were designed to give Upper Peninsula residents connections with passenger trains in Green Bay, Wis., which were lost when the C&NW discontinued passenger trains to the U. P. last July 15.

At that time, the railroad said the bus service would be provided on a one-year "trial basis."

The buses—one southbound leaving Escanaba at 1:45 p.m. and one northbound at 6:55 p.m.—were designed to give Upper Peninsula residents connections with passenger trains in Green Bay, Wis., which were lost when the C&NW discontinued passenger trains to the U. P. last July 15.

Business-Farm Picnic Slated

FOR MEN YET! — A male model wears the maxi-coat for men brought out by designer Valentini in Rome.

Escanaba Chamber of Commerce President Thomas Straebel today urged all chamber members, their wives and children to attend the annual Farmer-Businessman picnic in the Youth Building at the U. P. State Fair Grounds from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, August 9.

The event, sponsored by the Agricultural Committee, is an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted with our rural neighbors, said Straebel. Dinner and refreshments will be available at a nominal cost. George Bathke and Richard Marenger are co-chairmen of the event.

Chamber manager Walter Lewke reported at the July meeting of the Board of Directors that Chamber members are requested to make reservations for the Green Bay Packers-Buffalo Bills game Sept. 12. The Chamber is accepting standby orders from the public from adults only.

Two bus loads of Chamber members and a bus load from K. I. Sawyer AFB will leave from the Lake Bluff Country Club at 4 p.m. following a cocktail hour at the club. The group will have dinner at Red and Ed's at Marinette enroute to the game and will return to Escanaba immediately after the game with no stop enroute.

Lewke reported on progress of the downtown rest station. He also said that there are some firms that have not sent in their commitments as yet and it is hoped that as the building nears completion these firms will realize the value to the downtown and make their commitments.

The Board in a previous meeting had requested that the Chamber investigate the causes of some oil slick pollution appearing on the lower end of Little Bay de Noc. Communication has been initiated with shipping companies to attempt to discover what is causing the pollution, Lewke said.

The nominating committee, composed of retiring Board members Donald Breaud, Merston Jensen, Irving Olsen, James Schultz and Thomas Straebel, will meet at 4 p.m. Monday, July 20 at the Chamber building to select nominees to the Board of Directors to be elected Sept. 10.

Arrangements have been completed by Directors Donald Breaud and James Kelley, co-chairmen of the Wednesday, July 29 Sidewalk Day promotion sponsored by the Retail Division of the Chamber. Organizations and churches planning to set up booths in the roped off area between 8th and 14th Streets are asked to call Breaud at 786-2904.

The Board accepted as members the Globe Trotter Corp., assigned to Jack V. Knowles, and Superior Vending Service, assigned to Einar Erlendsen.

Lenore Gets Help

DETROIT (AP) — The wife of U.S. Sen. John Tower of Texas will arrive in Michigan Friday to help Lenore Romney campaign for the Republican Senate nomination.

'Fast Buck' Artists Taking Over Service Stations, Group Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Responsible service station operators are fleeing the business in droves, leaving the driving public at the mercy of money-hungry dealers, a Senate subcommittee has been told.

Charles E. Shipley, a Standard Oil dealer from Detroit, said service stations are being taken over "by the fast buck artists who employ only gas pumpers with no training, no knowledge of the automobile, and no instructions or desire to fill even the basic safety needs of the motorist."

He made the statement in remarks prepared for delivery today before a Senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee hearing into gas prices in Michigan.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who is up for re-election this year, described the Michigan situation as typical of other areas of the nation.

The hearings, Hart said, are a case study using Michigan's experience to give an insight to the industry nationwide.

Shipley testified the high turnover of station operators resulting from the exodus of responsible businessmen has left a strictly price operation "and the word service has been forgotten. The business is gasoline at a price and that is all."

He said the problem "is not just the price cutting of a few fast buck artists. It is the special deals that many suppliers have made available to some dealers."

One such arrangement is to induce a dealer to cut the price is the rent concession, he said.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Appalachian governors have urged President Nixon to adopt a new regional concept of funneling federal money to the states, a proposal they say will boost his chances of getting his revenue-sharing plan through Congress.

Nixon was reported impressed with the governors' plan during a private three-hour conference Tuesday, but made no commitment.

Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama, co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission, said the regional approach would complement Nixon's revenue sharing proposals now tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

He indicated the governors told Nixon that adopting their plan would remove some of the congressional opposition.

"In revenue-sharing, there is a question of who is going to get the funds—the city, the town or the counties," Brewer said. "In the Appalachian program, there is none of that bickering."

Nixon, who capped off his day by attending major league baseball's All-Star Game at Cincinnati, told the governors he wanted to hear their views to break his administration out of what he called "the isolation booth" in Washington.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 4.04 at 707.08.

Advancing issues were widening their small lead over decliners.

Analysts attributed today's gains to investor confidence sparked by the market's ability to withstand downward consolidation pressure.

Profit taking so far on the recent rally which sent the Dow up more than 30 points has been quite mild, with the Dow holding onto the rally gains. This is a sign of technical strength, analysts said.

Another factor contributing to today's rise in stock prices is that second-quarter earnings reports have not been as bad as was expected, some brokers said.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average was up 0.6, with industrials up 1.4, rails off 0.2, and utilities, up 0.4.

Steels, mail order-retail, electronics, chemicals, and airlines were mixed. Rubber issues were unchanged, and rails were off. All other categories were up.

Civilian Aid Asked To Help Find Young Girl

Judge Peter Marutakis to 30 days in jail, and fines restitution totaling $600.

Chief Deputy said failure to turn up new development after sifting more than 800 tips left officials "more and more concerned."

He said the absence of any ransom note appeared to rule out kidnapping as a ploy. "In the end, I believe events will show Laurie is a victim of circumstances, real or imagined by her kidnaper," he said.

The slightly sunburned blonde was last seen July 9 when a lone gunman took $64 from a Lansing gift shop where Laurie was a part-time employee. The robber struck the store owner with his gun and then forced Laurie to accompany him to his car.

Buses Linking Upper Peninsula To Trains End

Greyhound Bus service which was initiated last year to serve the Upper Peninsula with the discontinuance of Chicago & North Western passenger trains has ended—exactly a year after the passenger trains were pulled off.

The buses linking Ishpeming with Green Bay via Escanaba and other stops in the Upper Peninsula made their final runs Tuesday.

"The service just wasn't patronized," said Gilbert Loshek of Milwaukee, assistant regional manager for Greyhound Lines, Inc.

"This was originally a guaranteed run by the Chicago & North Western," Loshek said, "and they informed us that they're not going to continue the guarantee."

Without the guarantee income from the railroad, he said, Greyhound cannot continue to operate the service.

The buses—one southbound leaving Escanaba at 1:45 p. m. and one northbound at 6:55 p. m.—were designed to give Upper Peninsula residents connections with passenger trains in Green Bay, Wis., which were lost when the C&NW discontinued passenger trains to the U. P. last July 15.

At that time, the railroad said the bus service would be provided on a one-year "trial basis."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet unanimously re-elected Alexei N. Kosygin premier of the Soviet Union today. He is to present his cabinet nominations later in the current session of the Supreme Soviet, the Soviet Union's parliament, but there has been no indication whether there will be any changes.

Election of a government is a formality required because this is the first session of the new parliament elected last month. Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev nominated Kosygin at a joint session of the two houses, and he was confirmed by the usual show of hands.

Business-Farm Picnic Slated

Escanaba Chamber of Commerce President Thomas Straebel today urged all chamber members, their wives and children to attend the annual Farmer-Businessman picnic in the Youth Building at the U. P. State Fair Grounds from 1 to 4 p. m. Sunday, August 9.

The event, sponsored by the Agricultural Committee, is an excellent opportunity to become better acquainted with our rural neighbors, said Straebel. Dinner and refreshments will be available at a nominal cost. George Bathke and Richard Marenger are co-chairmen of the event.

Chamber manager Walter Lewke reported at the July meeting of the Board of Directors that Chamber members are requested to make reservations for the Green Bay Packers-Buffalo Bills game Sept. 12. The Chamber is accepting standby orders from the public from adults only.

Two bus loads of Chamber members and a bus load from K. I. Sawyer AFB will leave from the Lake Bluff Country Club at 4 p. m. following a cocktail hour at the club. The group will have dinner at Red and Ed's at Marinette enroute to the game and will return to Escanaba immediately after the game with no stop enroute.

Lewke reported on progress of the downtown rest station. He also said that there are some firms that have not sent in their commitments as yet and it is hoped that as the building nears completion these firms will realize the value to the downtown and make their commitments.

The Board in a previous meeting had requested that the Chamber investigate the causes of some oil slick pollution appearing on the lower end of Little Bay de Noc. Communication has been initiated with shipping companies to attempt to discover what is causing the pollution, Lewke said.

The nominating committee, composed of retiring Board members Donald Breaud, Merton Jensen, Irving Olsen, James Schultz and Thomas Straebel, will meet at 4 p. m. Monday, July 20 at the Chamber building to select nominees to the Board of Directors to be elected Sept. 10.

Arrangements have been completed by Director Donald Breaud and James Kelley, co-chairmen of the Wednesday, July 29 Sidewalk Day promotion sponsored by the Retail Division of the Chamber. Organizations and churches planning to set up booths in the roped off area between 8th and 14th Streets are asked to call Breaud at 786-2904.

The Board accepted as members the Globe Trotter Corp., assigned to Jack V. Knowles, and Superior Vending Service, assigned to Einar Erlandsen.

'Fast Buck' Artists Taking Over Service Stations, Group Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Responsible service station operators are fleeing the business in droves, leaving the driving public at the mercy of money-hungry dealers, a Senate subcommittee has been told.

Charles E. Shipley, a Standard Oil dealer from Detroit, said service stations are being taken over "by the fast buck artists who employ only gas pumpers with no training, no knowledge of the automobile, and no instructions or desire to fill even the basic safety needs of the motorist."

He made the statement in remarks prepared for delivery today before a Senate subcommittee and monopoly subcommittee hearing into gas prices in Michigan.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who is up for re-election this year, described the Michigan situation as typical of other areas of the nation.

The hearings, Hart said, are a case study using Michigan's experience to give an insight to the industry nationwide.

Shipley testified the high turnover of station operators resulting from the exodus of responsible businessmen has left a strictly price operation "and the word service has been forgotten. The business is gasoline at a price and that is all."

He said the problem "is not just the price cutting of a few fast buck artists. It is the special deals that many suppliers have made available to some dealers."

One such arrangement is to induce a dealer to cut the price is the rent concession, he said.

Market Showing Inclining Trend

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices began trending upward today after drifting fractionally off in earlier trading. Trading continued to be slow.

At noon the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up 4.04 at 707.08. Advancing issues were widening their small lead over decliners.

Analysts attributed today's gains to investor confidence sparked by the market's ability to withstand downward consolidation pressure.

Profit taking so far on the recent rally which sent the Dow up more than 30 points has been quite mild, with the Dow holding onto the rally gains. This is a sign of technical strength, analysts said.

Another factor contributing to today's rise in stock prices is that second-quarter earnings reports have not been as bad as was expected, some brokers said.

At noon the Associated Press 60-stock average was up 0.6, with industrials up 1.4, rails off 0.2, and utilities, up 0.4.

Steels, mail order-retail, electronics, chemicals, and airlines were mixed. Rubber issues were unchanged, and rails were off. All other categories were up.

Appalachian Group Seeks Federal Funds

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Appalachian governors have urged President Nixon to adopt a new regional concept of funneling federal money to the states, a proposal they say will boost his chances of getting his revenue-sharing plan through Congress.

Nixon was reported impressed with the governors' plan during a private three-hour conference Tuesday, but made no commitment.

Gov. Albert Brewer of Alabama, co-chairman of the Appalachian Regional Commission, said the regional approach would complement Nixon's revenue sharing proposals now tied up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

He indicated the governors told Nixon that adopting their plan would remove some of the congressional opposition.

"In revenue-sharing, there is a question of who is going to get the funds—the city, the town or the counties," Brewer said. "In the Appalachian program, there is none of that bickering."

Nixon, who capped off his day by attending major league baseball's All-Star Game at Cincinnati, told the governors he wanted to hear their views to break his administration out of what he called "the isolation booth" in Washington.

Ford Foundation Scholarship Goes To Bay Graduate

Richard Thomas Huggins, 1970 graduate of Bay de Noc Community College from Brooklyn, New York, has been awarded a Ford Foundation Scholarship. The scholarship program is designed to enable minority students who graduate from two-year colleges to transfer to four-year institutions in order to complete requirements for a baccalaureate degree.

In announcing establishment of the program and the first scholarship winners, F. Champin Ward, Foundation vice president for education and research, said:

"Most two-year college graduates, especially those from minority groups, encounter formidable barriers to further study. It too often has become a point for stopping rather than continuing education. It is our hope that this program will open up new opportunities both for the deserving students and the senior colleges they attend."

Huggins plans to enroll at Ferris State College to pursue a degree in business administration.

National League Extends All-Star Mastery

Players Go Full Tilt In 12-Inning Struggle

CINCINNATI (AP) — When someone remarked, on the eve of baseball's 41st All-Star Game, that fans' interest in the inter-league tussle has been hyped this year, someone else said it was about time the players got interested.

Tuesday night, 56 of the major leagues' finest certified their interest ... and then some ... in a grueling, 12-inning struggle at muggy Riverfront Stadium.

When it was over, the National Leagueers had pocketed a 5-4 victory, their eighth in a row and sixth in as many extra-inning duels during the long series. But any talk of lethargy, or comports was stifled after:

Pete Rose scored the winning run in a jarring collision at the plate with Ray Fosse that sent the Cleveland catcher to a hospital with a shoulder injury and left the Cincinnati flash nursing a painful charley horse.

Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente, castigated for suggesting he might pass up the game because of a pain in the neck, showed up, played and capped the Nationals' tying three-run rally in the ninth with a sacrifice fly.

Baltimore's Dave Johnson, hobbled by a damaged knee, labored through eight innings at second base for the Americans on the hot and hard Astro turf that blankets the Reds' new park.

Earns Victory

Southpaw Claude Osteen of Los Angeles, who had worked eight innings three days earlier, got into the game as a pinch runner in the NL ninth and wound up pitching three scoreless frames to earn the victory.

President Nixon, who joined the crowd shortly before game time, stayed to the finish. So did Hank Aaron, Willie Mays, Frank Robinson and all the superstars who were out of their respective line-ups after the early innings.

The only drop-out was busy Morganna Roberts, the exotic dancer and compulsive player-kisser, who made a promised foray onto the playing field in the first inning ... and was promptly hauled off to jail.

The Detroit Tigers' Willie Horton hit 2-for-3, with a near homer in the 10th inning. The National League purposely walked him the final time up.

Horton's striking 10th inning drive banged off the wall and Roberto Clemente held him to a single.

Ball Didn't Rise
"I hit it good, but it didn't rise," Horton said after in the dressing room. His other hit was a run-scoring single in the eighth. Horton said the artificial turf on the field "just don't feel like a ball field. I didn't know where to play. I couldn't judge my distance because there was no infield dirt to look at."

Tigers' centerfielder Bill Freehan batted once and flew out in the third inning.

Jim Hickman of the Chicago Cubs and Billy Grabarkewitz of Los Angeles two of the NL's top hitters who were overlooked in the fans' first balloting for starting spots in 13 years, shared the spotlight with Rose in the climactic 12th.

Rose, hitless in three previous All-Star appearances and a two-time strikeout victim Tuesday night, stroked a single with two out in the 12th and took second on Grabarkewitz' single. Hickman then lined a single to center and Rose barreled into

Fosse before tossing the plate. "It was a bang-bang play," said National League Manager Gil Hodges of the New York Mets. "It took someone like Pete to bull his way in there."

Boston's Carl Yastrzemski, named the game's most valuable player after cracking four hits to tie the All-Star mark. Delivered a run-scoring single in the sixth, giving the AL a 1-0 lead.

Fosse contributed a run-producing sacrifice fly in the seventh and Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's 14-year All-Star fixture, drilled a two-run triple in the eighth.

Trailing 4-1 in the ninth, the favored Nationals finally exploded. San Francisco catcher Dietz Dietz provided the spark with a leadoff homer. Singles by Bud Harrelson of New York, Joe Morgan of Houston and Willie McCovey of San Francisco brought home another run and Clemente tied it with a long fly to center.

Artificial Turf To Help Hitters

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carl Yastrzemski, the All-Star Game's most valuable player, thinks artificial playing surfaces will be a boon for hitters and has the evidence to back his claim.

The Boston Red Sox star tied an All-Star baseball record with four hits—three singles and a double—and played all 12 innings Tuesday night for the losing American League in the game won by the National League 5-4.

His four hits on Riverfront Stadium's AstroTurf tied the mark belonging to Ducky Medwick and Ted Williams. Medwick rapped four hits for the NL in 1937 and Williams four for the AL in 1946.

Ball Gains Speed
"I think it (artificial) is great for the hitter," Yast said. "It's got to help some guys 30 points on their batting average and a lot of others at least 15 points." "You can't believe the speed the ball picks up when it hits the surface," he said.

The Red Sox ace looked like a missing target of exotic dancer Morganna Roberts when she bounced onto the field in the first inning. "If she was coming for me," Yast said, "I was going to run over to the President's box."

Yast wound up with his first single and the 44½-23-37 Morganna faced a disorderly conduct charge today in the court after the incident.

Carl had an explanation for the AL's eighth straight loss to the NL. "We had scoring opportunities and, bang, a base hit."

Ex-National League President Warren Giles hustled into the National clubhouse, congratulated Manager Gil Hodges and said, "They'll never beat us." Jim Hickman, whose single drove home Pete Rose with the deciding run, said, "I was just trying to hit the ball anywhere. It was a fast ball (from Clyde Wright) down."

Rose barreled into Cleveland rookie catcher Ray Fosse for the winning run and both were hurt. Rose suffered a charley horse above his left knee and Fosse an injured left shoulder. Winning pitcher Claude Osteen worked three innings after going in as a pinch runner and was a happy southerner.

"I've got to cut out this box score and show it to my teammates," the Los Angeles Dodger's burlier said, referring to the pinch running and pitching stint.

"They call me 'Grand Dad.' They're always kidding me about how old I am."

Hodges wasn't particularly surprised that the AL pitchers stopped the power-laden NL batters for the eight innings.

"Here you've got the best pitchers against the best hitters and the pitchers can contain the hitters if they get the ball where they want it. That's what the AL pitchers were doing most of the night," he said.

Can't Win, Period
A writer mentioned to American League Manager Earl Weaver that the Nationals had beaten the AL in extra innings for the sixth straight time.

"We just can't beat them period," he said. It took them 12 innings though and I'd call that pretty even."

Wright, the victim of three straight NL hits in the 12th, said, "They just hit the damn pitchers for base hits. You hit three in a row and you get beat."

Tri-Club Event To Be 36 Holes

Details for the annual men's Tri-Club Golf Tournament were completed Tuesday night at the Escanaba Country Club as rain forced postponement of regular Twilight League play.

The Escanaba Country Club will host the annual event Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26.

Defending champion, will be Harold VanEffen of the host club.

The tournament will be staged as a 36-hole medal play event, announced the Golf Committee, with Saturday's 18-hole qualifying scores being used along with Sunday's round to determine winners.

The course will be closed to tournament golfers only from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and from the 8:30 a.m. start on Sunday until the final round is completed.

Low 16 players and ties will compose the championship flight with the rest of the field being broken into eight-man playing flights. Entry fee will be $7 per man.

Pro Jim Crichton said the Country Club course is in excellent condition for the tournament and a large turnout from Escanaba, Gladstone and Highland clubs is expected.

Crichton also announced that a few places remain open for the club's annual Calcutta this Saturday. The first 50 golfers to sign up at the pro shop will be accepted.

The event will begin with a shotgun start at noon Saturday.

The Calcutta auction is scheduled at 10 p.m. Friday at the clubhouse.

With Tuesday's rainout, the same league pairings have been made for next week.

Pro Golf's Top Stars In Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pro golf's great names, headed by British Open champ Jack Nicklaus, return to the American tour this week as the Philadelphia Classic ushers in the start of the big money season.

The $150,000 event is the first leg on a seven-week swing that ranks as the richest in the game's history. Approximately $1.4 million is up for grabs.

Almost all of the leading tourlets are on hand to make their bid for a share of it, in sharp contrast to the last two weeks when most of the game's top stars were in Scotland for the British Open.

So many of them are here, in fact, that there is no clear-cut favorite, though the awesome Nicklaus must be given consideration. Nicklaus, however, is having putting troubles, even though he won the British Open for the second time. He three-putted five times Saturday in the final round at Scotland when he and Doug Sanders finished in a tie.

All-Star Football Classic In Jeopardy By Deadlock

NEW YORK (AP) — The College All-Star Game may become a casualty of the deadlocked negotiations between National Football League owners and the NFL Players Association.

The NFLPA, in its second post-midnight statement in 24 hours, said early today that the College All-Stars, who've been practicing at Evanston, Ill., for the July 31 charity game at Chicago with the world champion Kansas City Chiefs, had voted unanimously to leave the official training camp.

The Dallas Times-Herald, meanwhile, in a dispatch from the Thousand Oaks, Calif., training camp of the Cowboys, said the NFLPA planned today to ask the owners' negotiating team to submit the contract battle to a federal mediator. Agreement of both sides in a labor dispute to federal mediation is necessary.

In New York, an NFLPA spokesman indirectly confirmed the report by saying an announcement on the situation would probably be released in the early afternoon today.

The mediation proposals was to be presented to the owners' committee headed by Tex Schramm of the Cowboys at today's closed-door negotiation.

The NFLPA, through John Mackey of the Baltimore Colts, its president, said the organization had requested the All-Stars, all rookies from the various NFL teams, to "consider leaving camp because of the owners' surprise lockout announced Monday."

A five-player committee of All-Stars composed of Mike Reid, Mike McCoy, Steve Tannen, Cedric Hardman and Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, issued, through the NFLPA, a statement of its own: "Due to the fact that the Kansas City Chiefs' veterans are unable to practice, we have decided to discontinue our supervised practice. We fully realize that the College All-Star Game is played for the benefit of a fine charity and for this reason we have agreed to remain in Evanston if possible and continue unsupervised workouts in the hope that the current dispute between the NFLPA and NFL owners will soon be resolved."

Jerry Cvangros Named Esky Athletic Director

Jerome (Jerry) Cvangros, head football coach of the Escanaba Eskymos for the past eight years, Tuesday night was named Athletic Director at the high school by the Board of Education.

Cvangros succeeds Harold Johnson, who has served in the position since 1962.

Johnson is assistant principal at the high school and now responsible for all student activities.

Remains As Coach
Cvangros, who will remain as head football coach of the Eskymos, joined the Escanaba coaching staff in 1958 as junior high school football coach.

In 1959, he moved up as Al Sigman's assistant and backfield coach with the Escanaba varsity and four years later was elevated to the head coaching position.

Cvangros' record in the past eight years has been outstanding as his Eskymos have won 53 games, lost 13 and played 3 ties.

Under Cvangros, Escanaba has won five conference championships in both the Great Lakes and Great Northern conferences and at one point had a 25-game unbeaten string which included back-to-back undefeated seasons in 1967 and 1968.

Honored By Writers
In both years, the Eskymos ruled the Upper Peninsula as Barber Trophy winners. Cvangros was elected "Coach of the Year" by U. P. Sportswriters in 1968.

A native of Ironwood where he starred as a prep athlete in football, track and baseball, Cvangros went on to play varsity football at the University of Wisconsin, lettering in 1955, before transferring to Superior State College where he received his degree. In 1966, Cvangros received his master's degree from Northern Michigan University.

Cvangros is married to the former Rochelle Heilinski of Hurley, Wis., and resides at 616 S. 17th St. They have three sons and a daughter.

Howe Will Play 2 More Seasons

CALGARY, Alb. (AP) — Gordie Howe's family retirement plan is geared to two more years of playing in the National Hockey League with the Detroit Red Wings.

After 25 years as an NHL super-star, he plans to call it a career, Howe said in a recent interview.

"I'm pushing my luck as it is," he said. "I've got to watch this body now."

"Did you hear of these youngsters demolishing steaks before every game? Heck, my stomach can't take that diet any more. I have to settle mostly for ground beef and that kind of thing."

Howe, 42, dropped in on the Calgary Stampede during a Canadian tour as a sports adviser to a department store. With him were his sons Marty, 16, and Mark, 15.

Marty and Mark are highly-regarded juniors in the Detroit area and will likely return to the same hockey team in the fall.

Howe said the competition would be better for them in Ontario. "But then they'd be subject to the amateur draft and wouldn't have any control over their futures."

"I don't want to subject them to any excessive pressures on the way up and I can't control that if I send them to school in Canada." Another disadvantage was the fact the boys would not be able to acquire a scholarship to a Canadian university.

"They'd be two years behind in the French language up here, too," Howe said a position with a life insurance company owned by Red Wings owner Bruce Norris awaits him upon retirement.

"It'll mean hard work to get going, but it's ideal. I'll have my own office, right at the Olympia."

A 31-goal scorer last season, Howe hopes to increase the total in 1970-71 with the aid of a "new wrist."

"This thing is sore right now," he said, pointing to a swollen hand and forearm, the result of an operation two months ago. The wrist was in a cast for 5½ weeks.

"It's been a problem now and then for 15 years. An old bone chip injury. It won't be 100 per cent but the doctor says it will be a big improvement on last year."

Tri-Club Event To Be 36 Holes

Details for the annual men's Tri-Club Golf Tournament were completed Tuesday night at the Escanaba Country Club as rain forced postponement of regular Twilight League play.

The Escanaba County Club will host the annual event Saturday and Sunday, July 25-26. Defending champion will be Harold VanEffen of the host club.

The tournament will be staged as a 36-hole medal play event, announced the Golf Committee, with Saturday's 18-hole qualifying scores being used along with Sunday's round to determine winners.

The course will be closed to tournament golfers only from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and from the 8:30 a.m. start on Sunday until the final round is completed.

Low 16 players and ties will compose the championship flight with the rest of the field being broken into eight-man playing flights. Entry fee will be $7 per man.

Pro Jim Crichton said the Country Club course is in excellent condition for the tournament and a large turnout from Escanaba, Gladstone and Highland clubs is expected.

Crichton also announced that a few places remain open for the club's annual Calcutta this Saturday. The first 80 golfers to sign up at the pro shop will be accepted.

The event will begin with a shotgun start at noon Saturday.

The Calcutta auction is scheduled at 10 p.m. Friday at the clubhouse.

With Tuesday's rainout, the same league pairings have been made for next week.

Pro Golf's Top Stars In Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pro golf's great names, headed by British Open champ Jack Nicklaus, return to the American tour this week as the Philadelphia Classic ushers in the start of the big money season.

The $150,000 event is the first leg on a seven-week swing that ranks as the richest in the game's history. Approximately $1.4 million is up for grabs.

Almost all of the leading tourists are on hand to make their bid for a share of it, in sharp contrast to the last two weeks when most of the game's top stars were in Scotland for the British Open.

So many of them are here, in fact, that there is no clear-cut favorite, though the awesome Nicklaus must be given consideration. Nicklaus, however, is having putting troubles, even though he won the British Open for the second time. He three-putted five times Saturday in the final round at Scotland when he and Doug Sanders finished in a tie.

The event will begin with a shotgun start at noon Saturday.

All-Star Football Classic In Jeopardy By Deadlock

NEW YORK (AP) — The College All-Star Game may become a casualty of the deadlocked negotiations between National Football League owners and the NFL Players Association.

The NFLPA, in its second post-midnight statement in 24 hours, said early today that the College All-Stars, who've been practicing at Evanston, Ill., for the July 31 charity game at Chicago with the world champion Kansas City Chiefs, had voted unanimously to leave the official training camp.

The Dallas Times-Herald, meanwhile, in a dispatch from the Thousand Oaks, Calif., training camp of the Cowboys, said the NFLPA planned today to ask the owners' negotiating team to submit the contract hassle to a federal mediator. Agreement of both sides in a labor dispute to federal mediation is necessary.

In New York, an NFLPA spokesman indirectly confirmed the report by saying an announcement on the situation would probably be released in the early afternoon today.

The mediation proposals will be presented to the owners committee headed by Tex Schramm of the Cowboys at today's closed-door negotiation.

The NFLPA, through John Mackey of the Baltimore Colts, its president, said the organization had requested the All-Stars, all rookies from the various 26 NFL teams, to "consider leaving camp because of the owners' surprise lockout announced Monday."

A five-player committee of All-Stars, composed of Mike Reid, Mike McCoy, Steve Tannen, Cedric Hardman and Heisman Trophy winner Steve Owens, issued, through the NFLPA, a statement of its own: "Due to the fact that the Kansas City Chiefs' veterans are unable to practice, we have decided to discontinue our supervised practices. We fully realize that the College All-Star Game is played for the benefit of a fine charity and for this reason we have agreed to remain in Evanston if possible and continue unsupervised workouts in the hope that the current dispute between the NFLPA and NFL owners will soon be resolved."

Bear, 3 Cubs Die On Road

MUNISING — A 200-pound mother bear and her three cubs were killed when they walked into the side of an east-bound car on M-28, a half mile west of the Brownstone Inn in Ontonagon Township.

The driver of the car, Mrs. Lily M. Ottaway, of Flint, said she was traveling at about 55 miles per hour when she saw the four animals crossing the highway from the lakeshore and was unable to avoid them.

The mother bear and one cub, found at the time of the accident, were brought to the Munising State Police post. The next morning Conservation Officer Al Latalewicz was notified by a passing motorist that two more cubs were found dead near the accident scene.

El Harger, biologist at the Cusino Experimental Station, Shingleton, was contacted and said that he tagged the three cubs in the Rock River area three weeks ago.
